Brooklyn Charges Back Into Race By Beating Phils 8-2

BROOKLYN (AP)—Rebounding from Wednesday's heart-breaking defeat by Philadelphia, Brooklyn Dodgers tripped the Phils 8-2 today to cut St. Louis' first-place National League one-game margin in half.

With the help of a four-run fourth inning, and a two-run by Joe Medwick, the Dodgers led 7-0 today at the end of six innings.

Kirby Higbe, one of the eight pitchers used by the Dodgers Wednesday, yielded only two hits, both singles.

Mort Cooper Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Mort Cooper hurled a three-hitter today that defeated New York Giants 8 to 0 in the first game of a twin bill and gave Boston Braves a temporary grasp on third place in the National League. Cooper also hit a home run in the sixth with the bases empty.

Izvestia Says De Gaulle Seeking Dictatorship

LONDON (Reuters)—Izvestia, official organ of the Soviet government, today accused Gen. Charles de Gaulle and the newly-formed Gaullist Union in France of "aiming at the establishment of a dictatorial regime in France under the shadow of the Cross of Lorraine," the Moscow radio reported today.

Seal Pitcher Sets High Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Larry Jansen, San Francisco's ace right-hander, finished the regular season with 31 victories and six defeats to top Pacific Coast League pitchers by a comfortable margin in the final unofficial twirling averages issued today.

Jansen's winning percentage of .838 was one of the highest in the last decade. His 31 wins duplicated the achievements of the Seals' Bob Joyce last year.

Carse, Lane Sign With Barons For Big Pay

WINNIPEG (CP)—Bob Carse, former Edmonton Flyers star, and teammate defenceman Doug Lane have signed with Cleveland Barons for what are reported to be the highest salaries ever paid out in the history of the American Hockey League.

Officials of the club and the players refuse to name the amount, but Carse says, "It's better than any offer I've received from the N.H.L."

Both players are currently working out with the Barons here.

Edmonton Grows Census Reveals

OTTAWA (CP)—Edmonton, fast-growing city in Canada's northland, has hit "big time" with a population of 109,997.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that preliminary figures of the quinquennial census of the west has disclosed that Edmonton, gateway to the Arctic, has jumped into eighth position in the race for population honors.

In the last five years Edmonton has added 16,180 persons to its population, a 17 per cent gain from 93,817 recorded in the 1941 census.

Edmonton is the ninth city to attain more than 100,000 people and noses out Windsor for eighth place. The latter, on the basis of the last census, has a population of 105,311.

Other cities with more than 100,000 at that time were: Montreal, 903,007; Toronto, 667,457; Vancouver, 275,353; Winnipeg, 221,960; Hamilton, 166,337; Ottawa, 154,951 and Quebec, 150,757.

The population of Regina showed a small net loss in the latest census, falling from 58,245 in 1941 to 56,152 in 1946 while Saskatoon rose from 43,027 to 52,829.

At Least 6 Dead In U.S. Train Wreck

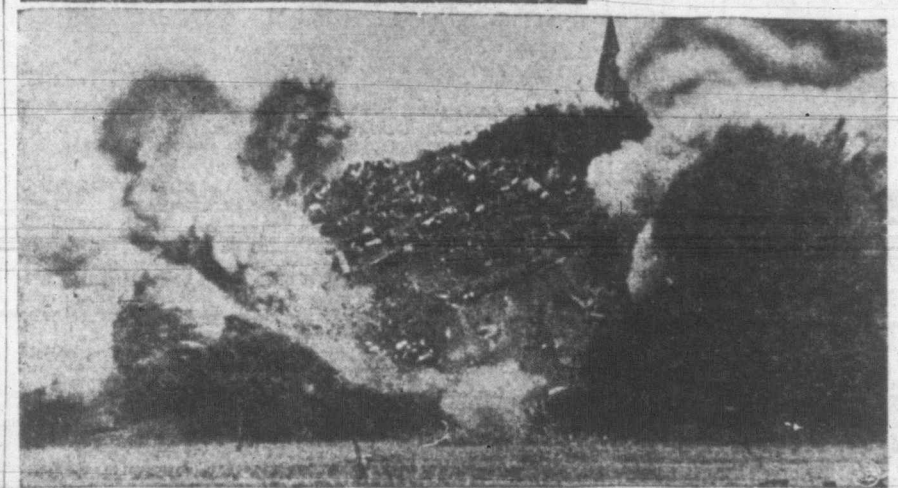

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Six persons and perhaps a seventh were killed in the wreck of a Union Pacific transcontinental train from Chicago, 24 miles east of Victorville this morning. Between 50 and 75 were injured, some seriously.

The wreck occurred when the locomotive and the first five cars of Union Pacific passenger train No. 3, westbound transcontinental limited from Chicago, went into the ditch.

Germans Help Blast Siegfried Line

At the rate of 40 a day, blockhouses and bunkers on the Siegfried Line—Germany's "impregnable" defence—are being blown to smithereens by demolition squads of French army engineers, aided by German prisoners. These photos show one of the blockhouses being destroyed. At left, the initial dynamite charge goes off and, below, the massive concrete blockhouse rises into the air as the full force of the explosion hits it.

International Ring Of Perverts Proved To Exist, Say Police

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg police said today that as a result of investigation into the George Smith and Roy McGregor slayings, "positive proof" was in their hands that an international organization of perverts, first disclosed during the war, is still operating.

During the war, some 200 persons alleged to belong to the ring were prosecuted by Canadian and U.S. authorities for sending obscene matter through the mails, officials said. They would not elaborate.

Chief of Police Smith said today that police still need the "vital break" which will put them on the trail of the McGregor-Smith slayer.

Thirteen-year-old George Smith was found lying in a west-central lane early Sept. 19 after he had failed to return home from a boy scout meeting. He had been shot once and part of his clothes torn off. The slaying was almost a duplicate of that of 13-year-old Roy McGregor here last Jan. 4. Police have stated the same man was responsible for the two slayings. A total of $7,000 in rewards has been offered for information leading to the killer.

Hope In Farm Strike Seen In Proposal By Gardiner

EDMONTON (CP)—Federal government willingness to broaden the composition of the Agricultural Prices Support Board probably would make it acceptable to the Alberta Farmers' Union as a fact-finding agency on parity prices—the union's main demand in a now 20-day-old delivery strike which has spread to Saskatchewan—union president Carl J. Stimpfle said this afternoon.

He was quick to add, however, that such acceptance would not necessarily mean an end to the strike of the union's estimated 20,000 members in Alberta or to the holdout in Saskatchewan where the United Farmers of Canada has issued a strike call to its estimated 30,000 farmers.

It was the farmer-president's first comment on a proposal by Agriculture Minister Gardiner that the union and the U.F.C. present their views to the support board. Mr. Gardiner said setting up a fact-finding board to man parity between farm costs and returned as asked by the farmers would only be duplication of powers already held by the present support board.

PICKETS STILL BUSY

Mr. Stimpfle made his comment in an interview with the Canadian Press as picket lines continued to hinder deliveries of farm produce in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

He did not know if the government would be willing to widen the composition of the Prices Support Board to include representation of farmers, labor, business and government as the union had asked for the proposed fact-finding board.

But, he said that the whole matter would have to be considered by the union's central strike committee, due to meet tomorrow. And even a favorable decision on use of the present board would not necessarily mean an end to the delivery strike. That was something only the strike committee and the union's full board could decide in collaboration with the U.F.C.

Mr. Stimpfle said he planned to communicate today with F. T. Appleby, president of the United Farmers of Canada, and possibly later an A.F.U. delegation would go to Saskatoon for a conference on the Dominion proposals.

Only Witnesses To Explosion, Victims 2 Others Injured

Cause of the $50,000 blast which rocked the James Island plant of Canadian Industries Ltd. at 10.45 this morning, killing three men and injuring two others, may never be determined as the only men at the blast scene were blown to fragments.

W. S. Thatcher, works superintendent of the plant, who rushed to the scene of the first fatal blast since the power plant was established in 1915, said this afternoon an immediate investigation into the explosion would be conducted. He suggested, however, that cause of the blast may never be completely learned because no one in the building had survived it.

The blast occurred in No. 2 gelatin cartridge plant where shells were being loaded. The 20 by 30 foot frame building with a corrugated steel roof was completely destroyed.

The dead are:
Edward Kennedy Cameron, Bazar Bay, who is survived by his wife, Maria.

John McDonald, about 40, Veganess Road, Keating, who is survived by his wife, Annie.

Hollie Homer Mundell, about 25, Saanichton, who is survived by his wife, Eileen.

Injured were:
Gordon Bowker, about 35, who lives on James Island.
D. C. Wright, a married man, who also lives on James Island.

The injuries of Bowker and Wright were described as not being serious. They were struck by flying glass and debris. Wright was more than 300 feet from the No. 2 gelatin cartridge house when the explosion occurred.

All buildings on the island are of light construction so that in case of explosion there would be a minimum of debris.

FELT FIVE MILES AWAY

The explosion, felt in Sidney about five miles away, immediately brought aid from Sidney and the R.C.A.F. station at Patricia Bay.

Constable R. W. Sinclair of the B.C. Police force at Sidney went to the island on an R.C.A.F. crash boat from Patricia Bay. Captained by WO1 Barney Stoney the boat also took two R.C.A.F. nurses, the Misses Sullivan and Ritchie, to the blast scene.

The injured were removed to hospital in Victoria.

The explosion itself was caused by the detonation of 1,500 pounds of dynamite being loaded into paraffin paper cartridges for use in blowing stumps and other industrial purposes.

Around the spot where the building stood this afternoon was nothing but fragments of charred wood and heavy machinery. The ground itself was blackened 100 yards from the blast centre.

Blast barricades, 20 feet high and 15 feet thick at the base, filled with earth and sand, cut the force of the explosion. One of these was completely flattened by the blast.

Remains of the three workmen killed by the explosion are being removed to McCall Bros. Funeral Home.

Coroner E. C. Hart said it was unlikely that an inquest would be held.

Sgt. C. C. Jacklin of the B.C. Police, Victoria detachment, also went to James Island to assist

New Increase In Price Of Milk Appears Certain As Subsidy Ends

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King said Wednesday night the government has decided to abide by its decision to abolish, Sept. 30, the producers' subsidy of 55 cent a hundred pounds on milk sold for fluid consumption.

Mr. King also announced the subsidy of 23 cents a hundred pounds on milk used to manufacture concentrated milk products also will be discontinued Sept. 30, but added the Prices Board will authorize an equivalent price increase for evaporated milk, condensed milk and milk powder.

The 55-cent producer subsidy is equal to slightly less than 1½ cents a quart, and it now will be a matter for provincial milk boards to decide whether corresponding increases in consumer prices will be authorized.

Last May, a federal consumer milk subsidy, equal to 2 cents a quart, was discontinued and the action was followed by corresponding increases throughout the country.

COMMONS RESOLUTION

Cabinet reconsideration of the producer subsidy came as a result of a resolution passed by the Commons last Aug. 27 asking that the government review its milk subsidy policy "in order to ensure an adequate return to milk producers without a further increase in milk prices to consumers," Mr. King said.

In May, the government announced it was continuing temporarily—until Sept. 30—the producer subsidy.

Mr. King's statement Wednesday night said in part: "The government, in reconsidering this decision, felt that if there were any real assurance that continuation of the present subsidy would achieve the objectives endorsed by the House it might be justified in continuing the subsidy for a further limited period of time.

"In fact, however, there have been strong indications that, even if the subsidy were continued, milk producers would demand, and at least several of the provincial milk boards would be prepared to authorize, significant increases in the price of milk over and above the subsidy.

"Under these circumstances the government has felt that the wise and proper course is to adhere to the program already announced and on Oct. 1 to return control over the price of fluid milk wholly to the provincial authorities.

PROVINCES VARY

"Conditions surrounding the production of milk for the fluid market vary widely from province to province and even within provinces, and while under wartime conditions it was desirable to establish an over-all policy on fluid milk prices, it was felt that the time has now come when the established and experienced milk boards should resume full jurisdiction."

Prospects that most Canadian milk drinkers will pay at least 2 cents a quart more loomed

T.L.C. Endorses Foreign Policy Of Unity Among Big 3

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention today endorsed a foreign policy resolution based on Big Three unity.

The resolution demanded the government "champion policies that will completely destroy the last remnants of Fascism and colonial oppression; support the inalienable right of all people and nations to independence and self-determination; oppose every and all efforts to again divide the world in to hostile blocs, strive relentlessly to retain the unity of the Big Three for such unity is indispensable to lasting peace and withhold economic and political support from governments who seek to perpetuate feudal and colonial oppression."

The resolution asked also for speedy improvement in relations with Allied and other democratic countries with the establishment of trade relations.

The resolution expressed alarm over "the dangerous, divisive and war-mongering trend which is apparent at the Paris Peace Conference."

It asked for shaping of Canada's foreign policy for the "democratic solution of all outstanding problems on the basis of the Atlantic Charter and the agreements arrived at Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam by the Big Three."

Warmly Welcomed

LONDON (CP)—Laurence Olivier's performance in Shakespeare's "King Lear" is being hailed as one of the finest ever given on a British stage.

A new version of the tragedy was introduced to a London audience Tuesday night by the Old Vic Company.

Mr. Olivier responded to many curtain calls and was besieged, later outside the theatre by enthusiasts who chanted "We Want Larry." A police car was necessary to take him away from the theatre.

Stories Of Gazelle Boys Grow, Adorned In Bars Of Mideast

JERUSALEM (AP)—Gazelle boys—they eat grass, run 50 miles an hour and speak only the language of their foster parents—are enlivening this year's silly season in the Middle East.

First reported in Trans-Jordan six weeks ago, the Gazelle boys now number five. Each story is a little better than the last one.

The original report was that three hunters seeking the Gazelle—an antelope with large, friendly eyes—had found a 14-year-old boy living with a herd. They gave chase in a car going 50 miles an hour, captured the boy and took him to a hospital, where he would eat nothing but grass and mumbled inarticulately. The story was told in Palestine and Trans-Jordan bars and found its way into print.

Later it was learned the boy was the son of a Bedouin family living in the neighborhood and was mentally deficient. He is now in a hospital. He doesn't eat grass.

The other Gazelle boys subsequently turned up in Trans-Jordan, Iraq, Syria and Lebanon. One, the wags say, is being trained by oil companies to do a 50-mile-an-hour pipeline patrol. Another, according to the latest story, is being taught English by professors at the American University at Beyrouth so they can learn what the Gazelles talk about besides love.

Cafe Patrons Want To Pay For Food, Not Atmosphere

People are not in favor of paying for the atmosphere of restaurants when they eat meals out, according to George H. Hougham, managing director of the Canadian Restaurant Association, who addressed local restaurant operators here Wednesday.

Negotiations are under way with Wartime Prices and Trade Board for a revision of meal prices across Canada, he said. Mr. Hougham was pleasantly surprised with the price of meals here. At a local restaurant he paid 50 cents for a meal which he claimed would have cost him at least 70 cents in Toronto or a number of other Canadian cities.

Mr. Hougham also said a plan was now under way to encourage girls to take positions in restaurants, and to take away from them the idea that the job of a waitress was not a good occupation.

Accompanying Mr. Hougham on his visit here were: Nat Bailey, Vancouver, president of the association; M. C. Mario, Windsor, national director; Mrs. F. G. Montgomery, Toronto, executive secretary; and Sven Young, chief of food research, Canada Packers. The group has been touring Canada to meet restaurant owners and obtain an overall picture of the present restaurant situation.

In his address, Mr. Hougham spoke of a sweeping change in food preparation by means of electronics which is dawning. As an example, he said, a customer might order beef stew, an order which would be followed by the waitress removing a packet of frozen cooked beef stew from the refrigerator and holding it in a special high frequency field which would produce a steaming stew in a few seconds.

Mr. Young, who also spoke to local operators, dealt with conservation of frying compounds as an aid to making the best use of materials, owing to present fat and oil shortages.

Greeks Plan Big Welcome For King; Civil War Flares

ATHENS (AP)—The Greek government today completed its plans for welcoming King George II back to the throne despite fierce border fighting and civil strife in northern Greece which Premier Constantin Tsaldaris says has reached the magnitude of war.

Athens will close down completely Saturday morning for the king's reception and police announced that all permits for carrying arms had been suspended. Police said persons lining the route of the parade marking the monarch's return to Greece after five years of exile would not be permitted to circulate.

(In London, a source close to the king, summoned home by a recent plebiscite, said the monarch's return was expected to stabilize the tense situation in Greece. He was expected to depart for Greece either today or tomorrow.)

Greek Army Corps, meanwhile, were conducting virtual military operations to put down the rebellious opposition in Thessaly and Macedonia, the major trouble spots, but although an estimated 30,000 British troops were dispersed in those areas there was no indication they were involved. Informed British sources in Athens said the British forces were being reorganized, and that one of the two divisions in the region was being withdrawn from Greece. The headquarters of Maj. Gen. Kenneth Noel Crawford, commander of British troops in Greece, declined comment on a statement by a Foreign Office spokesman that the British forces would be used "in the last resort."

AWAIT TRANSPORT

(In London, the pro-Labor Daily Herald said today British forces would leave Greece "as soon as the necessary transport can be provided," and added: "The British government has made it plain that British troops cannot be used for dealing with the present internal troubles in Greece." The paper said "early announcement" of the date of withdrawal could be expected.) Premier Tsaldaris Wednesday blamed "foreign influences" (meaning Yugoslavia and Bulgaria) for the fighting in Greece. The press ministry said some of the 178 prisoners taken when military forces recaptured the town of Deskatte, in western Macedonia, Tuesday were Albanians.

Children Escape In Gorge Accident; One Man Injured

Five children of officers stationed at H.M.C.S. Royal Roads escaped injury but a man was hurt when the naval station wagon in which they were riding this morning was in collision with a car at Gorge and Tillicum Roads, Saanich police reported. The children were being brought into town to attend school.

The injured man is B. G. Walker, 1436 Gladstone Avenue, who was riding in the front seat of the station wagon. He was rushed to Jubilee Hospital suffering from spinal injuries. Extent of them was not known but X-rays had been taken.

Corp. Jack Hamilton of the Saanich police traffic department said the driver of the station wagon was Gordon H. Coutu, 638 Montreal Street. The wagon was reported to have been traveling east on Gorge Road when it collided with a car going west on Gorge Road and turning south on Tillicum Road, driven by Arthur A. Brazier, 633 Manchester Street.

Both cars were damaged badly in the front ends.

City police, in co-operation with the Saanich force, returned the children to their homes.

Expects Milk To Rise Tuesday To 15 Cents Quart

The price of milk, boosted from 11 to 13 cents last May following removal of a 2-cent a quart Dominion government subsidy, will probably jump to 15 cents a quart in Victoria next Tuesday.

This was predicted today by Ernest Carr, one-man milk control board for the British Columbia government. The price increase, while not yet officially approved, appears to be necessary to cover the removal of the producer subsidy of 55 cents per 100 pounds.

Announcement that the producer subsidy would be removed Sept. 30 was made by Prime Minister King in Ottawa last May at the time the consumer subsidy was removed. A storm of protest followed and the government decided to reconsider its decision. Wednesday night Mr. Carr announced the government would withdraw the producer subsidy as originally planned.

DOUBT ABOUT DATE

Whether or not increases in the prices of manufactured milk products—butter, cheese, evaporated and powdered milk and ice cream—will also be effected Oct. 1, or later, is not known. Consumer prices of these products are still controlled by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

In Vancouver, headquarters of the milk control board set up by an act of the B.C. Legislature last spring, Mr. Carr said the board had not yet decided definitely what action would be taken concerning the adjustment of the producer price of milk following Wednesday night's announcement of Mr. Carr.

Mr. Carr explained the situation as follows: Producers of milk for fluid consumption now receive $2.60

Strong Picket Lines Continue To Delay Prairie Farm Produce

EDMONTON (CP)—Strong picket lines continued to hinder deliveries of farm produce in Alberta and Saskatchewan today as federal authorities made their first move to settle the 20-day-old delivery strike being staged by 50,000 prairie farmers seeking a fact-finding board to establish parity between farm costs and returns.

First major break in the deadlock between the farmers and Ottawa appeared as Agriculture Minister Gardiner asked the 20,000 members of the Alberta Farmers' Union and the United Farmers of Canada, whose estimated 30,000 membership is confined to Saskatchewan, to present their views to the Agricultural Prices Support Board.

What the board now is doing is determining whether or not the producers can sell milk for $2.60 per 100 pounds. If the subsidized price of the producer has to be maintained to provide for the maintenance of the flow of milk from the producers to the consumers, the consumer price will probably also have to be boosted.

"It looks very much as though the consumer prices will have to be boosted 2 cents," said Mr. Carr.

WILL MEET PUTNAM

Mr. Carr expects to be in conference with Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam, who is in Vancouver today, concerning the proposed price adjustments.

Decision of the board is not final, Mr. Carr noted. The board's decision will go to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for approval before it becomes effective. Usually, however, the government approves orders of independent boards such as the milk board, automatically.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board reported that prices of manufactured milk products were still controlled by items 34 to 39 of Order 642, Order 450 of November, 1944, provided for a general mark-up in these prices.

These orders, which have been amended several times since that date, froze the wholesale prices, allowing a certain mark-up for retailers above the wholesale prices.

The prices of butter and cheese

Carl J. Stimpfle, farmer-president of the A.F.U., declined to comment on the request until the minister's letter is received at union headquarters here.

A number of A.F.U. officials Wednesday night said the chairman of the Agricultural Prices Support Board, J. G. Taggart, was "satisfactory." But it is known both the A.F.U. and U.F.C. are determined that at least one member of the board must be "passed" by them.

The joint brief to Ottawa contained several major points, besides establishment of a fact-finding board. These included "satisfactory" floor prices for poultry, livestock, dairy products and removal of increases in farm machinery since 1944, and gasoline price increases.

have been adjusted from time to time because of seasonal and other changes, said C. H. Booth, local director of the prices board. He believed the prices of condensed milk had not been changed since 1941.

'Ripper' Murderer Sentenced To Death

LONDON (AP)—Neville George Cleveley Heath, 29, was convicted today of the murder of Mrs. Margery Gardner, 33-year-old film extra, and sentenced to death.

The verdict was returned after an hour's deliberation by the jury of 10 men and two women. Counsel for the handsome flier had pleaded that he be found "guilty but insane" in the sadistic slaying.

Heath, a former R.A.F. pilot, also was charged with the murder of Doreen Marshall, whose horribly mutilated body was found near a south coast resort within two weeks of the Gardner slaying. The verdict made a second trial unnecessary.

Asked after announcement of the verdict whether he had anything to say, Heath replied: "Nothing."

Two prison doctors testified today against the defence contention that Heath was morally insane.

B.C. Employment Reported At Peak

National Employment Service officials reported today that employment in British Columbia has reached its peak and that 2,100 persons are looking for jobs, compared with 11,000 unfilled vacancies.

The officials reported a considerable number of tradesmen and laborers in the construction field may be laid off unless building materials become available within a short time.

They state skilled loggers are at a premium, and that the farm labor situation is good.

Youth, 18, Charged

WINNIPEG (CP)—Telesphore St. Cyr, 18, Wednesday was charged with the murder of his uncle, Modeste St. Cyr, 41-year-old farmer, who was shot Sept. 13 in a field in the St. Eustache district about 30 miles west of Winnipeg. It was announced today by Lorne J. C. Elliott, Crown prosecutor.

Ship In Distress

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Coastguard said today it had received a report of an "SOS" from an unidentified ship in distress about 400 miles east-southeast of Bermuda.

Boxes Lack Nails; Steel Strike Hits B.C. Fruit Packers

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The steel strike in eastern Canada is affecting the Okanagan fruit industry. The shortage of nails for boxes is so desperate that it has become one of the major problems of the industry.

Fruit officials have searched all the markets of the continent in a desperate hunt to find enough nails to finish this year's pack, but they are still short—so short, that drastic steps are being considered.

Aluminum nails will be available about Nov. 1, but the cost of these is so great they will add two cents to the cost of each box.

The delay will justly affect the industry in that it will bring early fall and late fall crops together in the packing houses. This problem is wide enough to cause the suggestion that it might be better to stop picking McIntosh apples now.

Another suggestion being considered is to appeal for all nails in the valley to be turned over to the fruit industry. This might result in quite a few pounds of nails. They would be of various sizes and unsuitable for the box making and lidding machines and those operations would have to be done by hand.

The situation now is so desperate that some packing houses will be faced this week-end with the decision whether or not to stop now making boxes and save the nails for lidding boxes made or continue box-making and pray for more nails when the lids are ready to be put on.

AUSTRALIA'S ELECTIONS

STUDENTS OF POLITICAL EVOLUTION throughout the British Commonwealth of Nations have watched with more than passing interest the progress of the general election campaign in Australia which comes to an end when the voters of that Dominion go to the polls on Saturday to elect their 18th Parliament. While reports have followed the usual pattern on pre-election prognostication—with the main parties equally confident of victory when the ballots are counted—this contest is an extremely important one for the Labor administration presided over by Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley, who succeeded to the leadership on the death of Mr. John Curtin in the early summer of last year.

At the election on Aug. 21, 1943, the Labor Party elected to the Lower Chamber no fewer than 49 Representatives out of a total membership of 75, the oppositionists dividing the rest of the seats between them, with the Liberals counting 12, Country Party nine, and Independents four. The 75th seat is occupied by an Independent who speaks for the federally-administered Northern Territory only when questions concerning that area are under discussion. In other words, it was only in the late Parliament that Labor had a clear and comfortable majority, for after the general election of Oct. 7, 1941, Mr. Curtin had a following of 38 and required the assistance of Independents on vital matters of government policy. It was because of this unsatisfactory condition that he appealed to the country before the constitutional three-year life of Parliament had run its course.

While the Chifley government seems quite confident of victory, competent observers on the spot see a very definite threat to the administration in the joint campaign which a coalition of the Liberal and Country parties has conducted. These bodies seem to have followed the example of British Columbia and hope their combined forces will win a majority over the Socialists in the next House of Representatives—if not in the Senate, where their prospects are far from bright. (Under the Australian system, incidentally, Senators are elected for six years—the Upper Chamber has a total membership of 36—and half of them must seek re-election every three years. Since Labor occupies 17 of the seats which will not be contested, moreover, the party seems assured of maintaining control there.) The anti-administration candidates have promised lower taxes and have indulged in all the familiar criticisms which constitute the principal fare of oppositions striving to return to office. They have made a major play on labor unrest generally, citing dislocations in the coal mining industry, while government speakers point with pride to their full employment statistics.

Simultaneously with the voting for Representatives and half of the Senatorial membership will be the balloting on a referendum to decide if the constitutional powers of the federal government are to be broadened to permit it to increase its social services and control primary production and marketing—as well as to regulate the conditions of employment. Though on constitutional matters the electorate has refused increased Dominion powers, the Labor administration decided on the present reference several months ago. Some of its existing social service measures are threatened as a result of court actions, and the administration has not the authority to legislate in such matters, for example, as an Australia-wide 40-hour work week for which there is a strong campaign in Labor ranks. Apart from this aspect of Saturday's voting, however, the main interest centres on the fate of the Chifley regime.

WHOSE BUSINESS?

BRITAIN'S LABOR GOVERNMENT came in for bitter criticism at yesterday's session of the regular convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor (C.C.O.) in Toronto. Vancouver's Lloyd Whalen, of the International Woodworkers of America failed to see where the Atlee administration had carried out to any appreciable degree its promises on housing, nationalization of basic industries, independence for India, and so on. So said he with an obvious pontifical air: "I think the best label we can hang on it is 'His Majesty's Loyal Imperial Government'." He wound up his complaint by charging Rt. Hon. Ernest Bevin with assuming an anti-working class position—"exceeding the stand taken by Churchill."

Canadians in general will wonder why Mr. Whalen and others of his persuasion do not attend to their own knitting. The Canadian Congress of Labor, after all, operates in this country—despite its external directives. And the ministry in Downing Street has plenty of troubles of its own without being reminded of them from still another set of self-appointed critics thousands of miles away. Some C.C.L. spokesmen, of course, are merely repeating the whispering campaign of the "fellow travelers"—who are annoyed because Mr. Bevin refuses to be pushed around by his opposite number in the Kremlin.

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

THE UNION OF BRITISH COLUMBIA Municipalities, in convention at Harrison Hot Springs, decided to refer to a special committee for discussion with government authorities the question of juvenile delinquency and appropriate punishment for young offenders. The action was approved as a result of a Victoria resolution seeking to secure for magistrates additional powers in this field. Thoughtful citizens, averse both to sugar-coated penalties for vicious youthful hoodlums and to brutal treatment for those who have slipped but are amenable to less severe counter-measures, will agree with the decision the union has reached, provided, of course, the question is not allowed to languish without attention.

Further canvassing of the issue will afford sponsors of the resolution not only the opportunity to secure more complete data, but will permit them to answer those critics who deplore the administration of the birch as a reversion to sadistic practice. Officials who have access to juvenile courts have excellent grounds on which to make such replies. They have seen cases—and the instances are not infrequent—when young toughs have scarcely veiled the sneers with which they have received admonitions from the bench. They have been present when boys released with a light sentence or no sentence at all, have hardly troubled to hide their disdain or lack of contrition. For such culprits the existing laws, which either let them off too lightly or condemn them to the questionable environment of a place of detention, fail to achieve curative effect.

It should be obvious, of course, that corporal punishment need not necessarily be ordered for all juvenile offenders who come before the court. Some may be influenced sufficiently by the magistrate's warning and advice to avoid a repetition of the deeds which brought them into trouble. For such as they, the birch would be unnecessary and probably harmful. But for the other type, the youngster who finds perverted distinction in escaping serious punishment for the crime he has committed, a whipping which stripped him of false heroism and reduced him to a position of scorn among his fellows, could quite conceivably be the means of turning him from the path leading to worse offences.

Nothing here suggests that the first responsibility for discipline should be taken from the home. But when an adolescent's actions bring him into open conflict with the law, the law should have the opportunity to make the punishment fit the crime, both for the sake of the youth and for the sake of the society it is pledged to protect.

CITIZENSHIP TRAINING

FIGURES PUBLISHED BY THE CANADIAN Institute of Public Opinion indicate an over-all of only 27 per cent of the voters are against compulsory military training. In Quebec 41 per cent register disapproval and these are joined by 32 per cent of Canadian farmers. The Institute thinks it significant that sentiment in favor of compulsion has risen since the war. Most of the voters believed that such military training should take place at an age below 20. It might now consider the question of military training as part of a public service which embodies the obligation of Canadian citizenship. Military training itself is generally, but mistakenly, regarded as purely devoted to defensive or aggressive "fighting" against an enemy. It should be emphasized more as training in discipline, physical fitness, and team work. The word military itself is misleading because it would include the naval and air services. As part of a public service it could become one-third of a compulsory training in citizenship undertaken by everybody after "schooling" is completed—which may be generalized as after leaving High School. The first third of such training could be agricultural or devoted to training everybody to know enough about production of food from the land for subsistence; the second third could be "military training," and the third vocational. Having completed his three-year public service course it could be fairly well guaranteed that every Canadian would know something of the obligations of citizenship, and would be proud to be granted its privileges.

WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS

SOME SYMPATHY WILL BE EXTENDED to British musicians who contend the BBC is too partial to American songs when it might use native products. But it will be remembered that the popularity of songs does not depend entirely on their source of origin. "Lilli Marlene" commanded quite a following despite the dubious conditions under which it first became a favorite on soldiers' lips. "Valencia," which drove early radio listeners nearly mad through repetition, was credited to Spain. Innumerable of the more catchy melodies of recent years have come from the pens of leading British dance band leaders. The BBC presumably chooses its selections with a view to listener appeal—and rightly so.

The English songwriters undoubtedly have a case of sorts, but it is certainly not strengthened by Tommy Conner's contention that American "Jeepers Creepers" should not be tolerated because it "covers blasphemy with colloquialism"—a thesis he advanced in protest against the banning of some songs on the radio. Carried to its ultimate conclusion, that argument imputes highly indecorous motives to those refined and elderly knitting ladies who express their provocation with "fiddlesticks" when they drop a stitch.

A weakness in Democracy is that every freedom granted to good citizens is also granted to secret enemies, who can cripple the nation without breaking a law.

Must War Come?

By JOSEPH ALSOP
 This is the first of a series of three articles on "Must War Come?" by Joseph Alsop, who has just returned to the United States after a three-month tour of Europe.

THERE IS NO USE making any bones about it. Only one final conclusion can be drawn from a realistic survey of the tragic Europe of the first postwar year. War will come again, soon or later, unless the West surrenders to the Soviet Union or the Soviet Union accepts collaboration with the West. A surrender of the West is unthinkable. A change in Soviet policy certainly cannot be counted upon. Therefore it is necessary to face the hard fact that another war in our time is a serious possibility.

If proof is wanted that these are not mere statements of empty opinion, it is only necessary to watch the squalid transactions of the Peace Conference of Paris. All those participating in it will admit, if they speak honestly, that every decision and every act is controlled, directly or indirectly, by the thought of war. The whole thing is a continuous jockeying for strategic position, begun by the Soviet Union and thus enforced upon the other nations. In taking leave of a conferee who has, perhaps, more than the normal historical imagination, this correspondent was asked a melancholy question. It summed up the situation in nine mordant words:

"How can we make peace and prepare for war?"

THE ANSWER IS, "You can't." There is only one way to make a real peace in these days of the new weapons, and that is by honest acceptance of true world organization by all major powers. Nor is the evidence of the plight that we are in to be found in Paris only. Much better evidence, indeed, is to be discovered by studying any school-room globe.

The globe shows, primarily, a world divided into two increasingly hostile camps by a semi-military frontier. That frontier runs from Korea on the Pacific to the border of the Soviet zone of Germany on the Baltic. On its side of the frontier, the Soviet Union is using all its vast energies to gather its extended empire into one iron system and to make that empire strong for war. Meanwhile, it is seeking to push back the frontier wherever that may seem advantageous. And from one end of the frontier to the other the resistance of the western powers to these Soviet thrusts has produced a series of embittered frontier disputes.

THERE IS ONE in Korea, between the Soviet and American occupying forces. There is one in China, where the Soviet Union backs the Chinese Communists while the United States supports the National government. There is an obscure one in Chinese Turkestan, where the Soviets hope that fishing in troubled waters will catch for them the great supposed resources of uranium and thorium in Sinkiang.

There is one in Iran, where British and Russians confront each other grimly. There is one in Turkey, where the Soviets seek bases in the Dardanelles with the real purpose of adding the Turkish government to their string of satellites. There is one in Greece, where the brutal and shameless regime of the Greek Right is threatened by the no less brutal and shameless Communist regimes of Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria. There is one at Trieste—a very troublesome dispute indeed. There is one in Austria. And there is one in Germany, where the contest was first announced by the Soviet Foreign Minister, Vyacheslav M. Molotov, and then confirmed by U.S. Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes.

THAT LIST IS a superficial and hurried tabulation of the frontier disputes which are already in progress. It omits the Soviets' great underground penetrations beyond the frontier, in the Middle East, in the colonial areas of the Far East and in Central and South America. But the list is enough to show the state of the world in clear and ominous outline.

Only two things must be added to bring home the list's meaning. First, no one has any faith that the frontier disputes will be settled by such procedures as are being employed in Paris. Newspaper leaders already know how hard it has been to bring a wretched compromise from these negotiations. Moreover, every diplomat in Paris assumes as a matter of course that the most important of these compromises—that concerning Trieste—will be violated as soon as the ink is dried on the treaties, if treaties are signed at all.

Second, the frontier disputes have already, in the few months since the second world war ended, produced three situations which might have led to organized military action. The first was last winter's Iranian crisis, when there would have been an Anglo-Soviet clash if the Soviets had pushed onward. The second was during the Soviet-armed and Soviet-engineered strike in the Anglo-Iranian oil wells, when the British were ready to occupy southern Iran if order were not restored. The third was the Yugoslav episode, when the Kremlin encouraged target practice on American aircraft to test American determination.

IF THESE INCIDENTS have occurred already, what is to happen in the future? There can be only one reply to that question. The frontier incidents will continue and multiply. Tempers will rise on both sides. Negotiations will grow still more difficult and still less productive. Ultimately, in three years or five years or ten years or twelve years, some one somewhere will go too far. Then there will be another world war.

You cannot cheat the law of probabilities. There is only one way out, and that is to end the struggle between the Soviets and the West by fair and generous mutual accord. Unfortunately, however, there are two parties to every agreement. Soviet policy must change before accord can be reached.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By GLENN BABE
 Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

In Greece there is a ready-made opportunity for Josef Stalin to support with action his declaration that he believed unconditionally in "the possibility of a friendly and lasting collaboration of the Soviet Union and western democracy, despite the existence of ideological discord." In London a Greek embassy spokesman characterizes the fighting as "an invasion by subversive elements from Albania and Yugoslavia with the connivance of the two governments." The British government lends support to this view.

There is no charge that the Soviet government is directly responsible for this tragic situation, but the belief is almost general that word from the Kremlin could alter the direction of the developments that point toward ever spreading conflict.

The Russians have been beaten in two efforts in the United Nations Security Council to pin the blame for this situation on Greece and the British forces still in the country.

In the course of this effort Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko killed, by his veto, an American proposal, which had the backing of the overwhelming majority of the Council, for an investigation of the whole Greek border situation.

The need for such an impartial study seems to most observers to be pressing. Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the United Nations, has declared that he still may undertake such a study on his own responsibility. The Greek premier, Constantinos Tsaldaris, speaking yesterday in Salonika, declared "Greece would welcome such a neutral and objective investigation."

Meanwhile the imminent return of King George II to Athens promises to bring the crisis to a new pitch of intensity and peril to the peace.

GORDON HEAD AIR PARK

I would like to say a few words with regard to the proposed plan to make Gordon Head a Memorial Air Park. If Victoria's air-minded young people are to have the facilities to fly and to learn to fly, we most certainly should have such a field—not years from now but today.

All that would be required are a few regulation-size grass runways and hangars. This airfield could quite easily become a beauty spot of the northwest and could be second to none in North America as a small plane field.

Victoria needs this field for her young air-minded citizens; it needs the field to insure her own development as a modern city and for her airforce veterans

Volunteers Wanted For Fruit Picking

Although the Victoria Farm
Labor Service has been successful in placing a number of men and women to work in the Okanagan Valley, C. M. Smith, area supervisor, said today the fruit district is still experiencing a shortage of men, women and girls for picking apples and operating, packing houses.

There was danger of large quantities of fruit going to waste if further help was not forthcoming, he stated. Any husky girls, 18 to 30, or men, 18 to 45, who would like to help out with this work should register at farm labor service office, 604 Broughton Street. Fare is guaranteed one way providing volunteers stay the season.

Mr. Smith also said there was still a serious shortage of experienced dairy farm help on Vancouver Island. He attributes the shortage of labor to the fact that wages and living conditions are more attractive in the cities and, moreover, married returned men find there is no separate living accommodation on the majority of Island farms.

Mr. Smith warned that if more help was unavailable, dairy production would decrease as some farmers were finding it difficult to carry on their business.

ences is to discuss with the zation of the Reserve Army and up problems with the staff and

The fall and winter training program for island reserve units will also be planned at the conferences.

EVAPORATED MILK

"Know How"

IT'S very simple to know how to use Carnation Milk. Carnation is fine whole milk, concentrated to half the original volume by evaporating part of the natural water. Add an equal quantity of water, and you have the consistency and food value of whole milk.

But you'll find a great difference in the smoothness, rich flavor and fine texture that Carnation gives to foods. And here's something special — if the recipe calls for cream — use Carnation undiluted, as it pours from the can. Use Carnation also, to "cream" coffee and cereals. You'll love it. Carnation is Canada's largest-selling brand of evaporated milk.

Broadcasts To Mark End Of Australian Election Campaign

CANBERRA (CP) — The Australian election campaign has reached its closing stage with newspapers filled with political stories and advertising and the Labor, Liberal and Country-Party leaders making final broadcasts to the electorate, which is expected to give a record vote of more than 4,500,000 ballots.

Led by Prime Minister Joseph B. Chifley, the Labor Party in seeking re-election stands on its five-year record, which it claims has given Australia its present day prosperity. Labor claims there is no unemployment in the country today, despite demobilization of 500,000 service men and women.

The Liberals, led by Robert Menzies, early war Prime Minister who then headed the United Australia Party, offers reduced taxes as a means of overcoming domestic shortages of all kinds through an added incentive to production.

Arthur Fadden's Country Party, seeking to form a coalition government with the Liberals, claims the Labor Party is slowly surrendering to left-wingers and has established too many controls over private enterprises.

The Australian voters will have three sets of ballots to mark on Saturday under the "preferential" of voting. With the first ballot they will elect 75 members to the House of Representatives. With the second they will choose 19 senators who will enter the 36-seat upper House next July, and with the third the voters will decide separately whether the federal government should have added power under the constitution to regulate marketing, extend social services and regulate working conditions nationally.

U.S. Army Plans
Jumping Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — War Department officials said Wednesday night the army is experimenting with a rocket-equipped jumping tank to hurdle streams and ditches and save previous bridge-building time in combat.

It is conceivable also the dough-boy of the future may be equipped with an individual rocket to help him scale walls and other obstacles.

These possible military developments were disclosed by Maj.-Gen. H. L. Ernest, head of the plans and training branch of the ground forces.

Brig.-Gen. Doyle Hickey, in charge of ground forces research and development, told a reporter one of our allies had propelled a light tank, of little more than 20 tons, 150 yards with nobody in it. It overturned on landing, but Hickey said he thought it could be made to land upright with certain adjustments. The experiment was held a number of months ago with U.S. observers present.

900 Herded In Caves
Saved From Typhoon

SONGSONG, Rota, Marianas Islands (AP) — How three Americans of varying antecedents saved 900 Rotanese — the entire population — in Sunday's typhoon was revealed when U.S. navy relief planes carried food and medicines to this island north of Guam.

A sailor, a marine and a Guamanian policeman shepherded the Chamorro natives of Rota into three enormous caverns, rigged electrical generators and kitchens, and the entire population survived the worst blow in 25 years practically unharmed.

Nearly all structures on the island of 40 square miles were blasted, ripped and scattered. Nearly every resident is homeless and lost his possessions and crops.

James W. Burns, radioman, first class, Chelan, Wash., unofficial governor of Rota by virtue of his position of senior representative of the military government, must be credited with the leadership which saved what is in effect a tiny nation under U.S. protection.

With him were Marine Sgt. Dewey L. Landreth, Chickasaw Indian of Ringling, Okla., and Julian Perez, a Guamanian policeman. Perez is the only interpreter on the island, where Chamorro is the spoken language.

Men, women and children from the village of Sogson used the spectacular limestone cavern in a cliff behind the village as a refuge. Men carried food, medicine, water and even women and children, who had to be aided up the cliff into the refuge.

Then the typhoon came, the radio with Guam was blasted out, and not until the first U.S. navy planes from Guam landed on the emergency strip at Rota did the government at Guam know all Rotanese had survived.

Food was nearly gone. After the initial supply of K-rations, the navy began flying rice, flour and medicines into the island, and must continue to do so until crops are bearing again.

Victoria Airforce Artist
Working On Field Sketches

Flt. Lt. P. G. Cowley-Brown at his easel.

Son of Mrs. P. C. Cowley-Brown, 1725 Montelth Street, Victoria, Flt. Lt. Cowley-Brown is shown putting the finishing touches to a scene sketched on the Northwest Staging Route, depicting a wireless station and a landing-strip near the Alaskan highway.

He was born in Singapore but came to Canada from England when still a child, residing first in Vancouver. In 1940 he joined the Royal Irish Fusiliers, and transferred to the R.C.A.F. in March, 1941.

He became a wireless air gunner in January, 1942, and served overseas a short time. On his repatriation to Canada he was remustered to ground duties and attached to Rockcliffe station, where field sketches were made for the historical section of Air Force headquarters.

In the R.C.A.F. art competition in 1944 he won first prize and was commissioned and appointed an official war artist in May. In this capacity field sketches were made at bases in western Canada and in the northwest.

In the course of his work Flt. Lt. Cowley-Brown painted scenes from Patricia Bay, Tofino, Ucluelet, Alliford Bay and Seal Cove. Most of this work dealt with the difficult flying boat operations carried out on the Pacific coast, the bush stations and life in general throughout Western Air Command.

SAVE SOME FOR Yourselves!

IT'S a melancholy thought... but isn't it true that you are always the last to share in your monthly earnings?

There's the butcher, the baker, the coal-man, the landlord. There's that new mattress for Mary, or Junior's dental bill. All it takes is an unexpected "extra" or two and — bang! — where's that money you so carefully had earmarked for savings?

Yet here's an interesting thing. All through the war you proved, with your Victory Bond purchases, that you could "save some for yourself". In fact, you saved a surprisingly large amount.

You proved, too, that a back-log of savings "does things" to you. It gives a lift to your self-respect... to your sense of getting somewhere. It makes you feel less vulnerable — makes you more willing and able to grasp opportunity when it comes along. It gives you peace of mind.

Who can say how important these things are, both to your progress and your personal happiness?

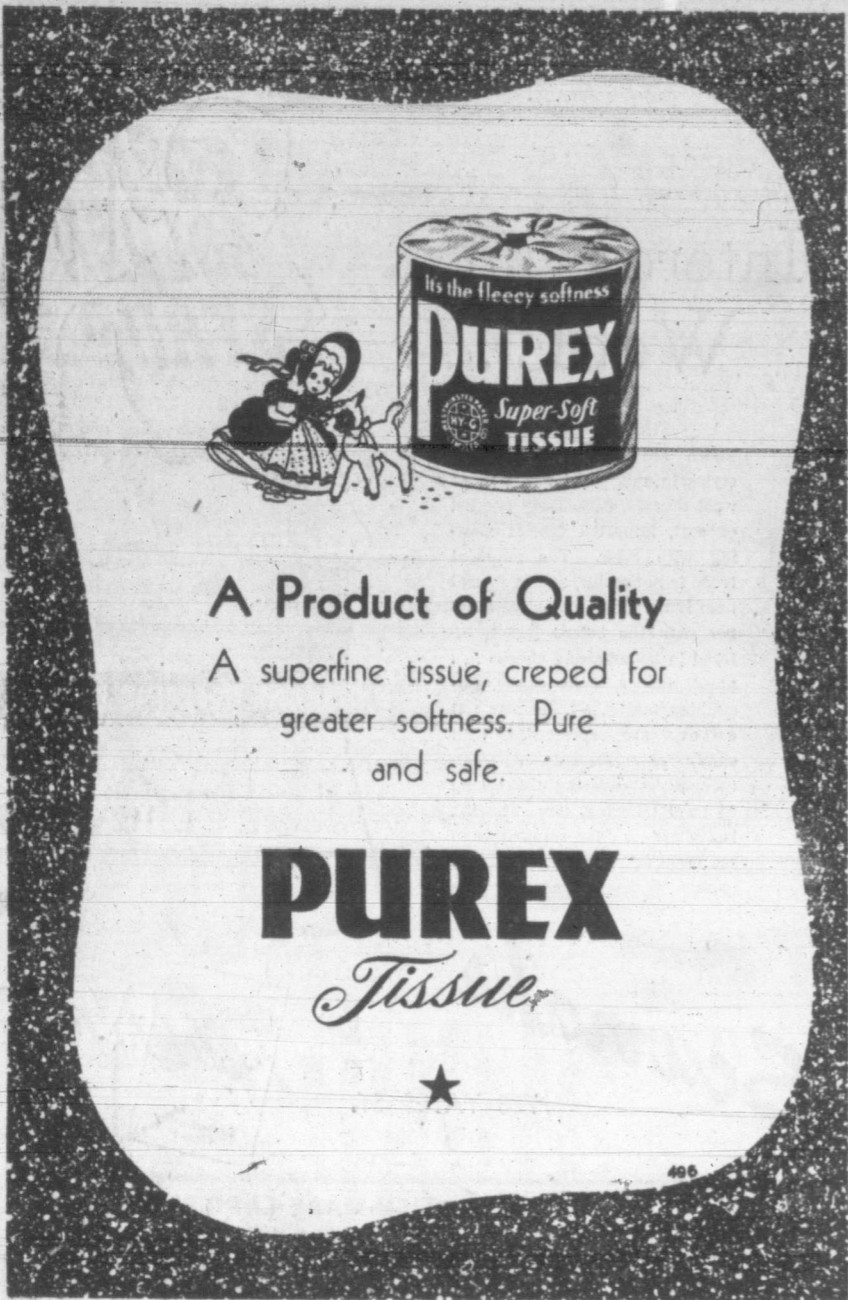

Certainly they are well worth working for. And that means owing yourself a certain set sum every month, and then making sure you collect it. So keep up that wartime saving habit. It's one good thing the war taught all of us.

PERHAPS YOU are one of the hundreds of thousands who already keep a Royal Bank savings account. If not, we'd like you to consider this your personal invitation to open one at the Royal Bank branch most convenient to you. The size of your first deposit isn't the important thing, to you or to us. The important thing is to open it, and then make sure, every pay day, that you save something for yourself.

A-Bomb Not Decisive In Next War, Says 'Ike'

ABOARD THE SS. QUEEN MARY (Reuter)—Gen. Eisenhower told a press conference Wednesday night he agrees with Generalissimo Stalin's view that atomic power would not be a decisive factor in the outcome of a war. No destructive weapon could be decisive, the United States army chief of staff said. Referring to Gen. Stalin's comments on American troops in China, Gen. Eisenhower said total United States military strength in China was "minor," with only small detachments represented. There was nothing that could be termed an occupation army in China, he added.

Churchill Said Nazis Massed Huge Fleet To Invade Britain

LONDON (AP)—Winston Churchill secretly told the House of Commons in 1940 the Germans had massed an invasion fleet of "upwards of 1,700 self-propelled barges and more than 200 seagoing ships" in position for an assault on Britain.

The release Wednesday night of two hitherto unpublished speeches by Britain's wartime Prime Minister cast new light on a subject which has been argued for six years—did Hitler actually intend to invade Britain? On Sept. 17, 1940, while the German air force raided London throughout the night, Mr. Churchill, elaborating on what he had said at an earlier public sitting, had this to tell a secret meeting of the Commons.

"I said just now . . . that the deployment of the enemy's invasion preparations and the assembly of his ships and barges are steadily proceeding, and that at any moment a major assault may be launched upon this island."

"I now say in secret that upwards of 1,700 self-propelled barges and more than 200 seagoing ships, some very large ships, are already gathered at the many invasion ports in German occupation . . ."

"Some of these ships and barges, when struck by our bombing counterattack and preventive attack, have blown up with tremendous explosions, showing they are fully loaded with all the munitions needed for the invading armies and to beat us down and subjugate us utterly. The shipping space available and now assembled is sufficient to carry in one voyage nearly 500,000 men."

The two speeches, together with three others previously released, were published today under the title of "Secret Session Speeches," the seventh and final volume of Mr. Churchill's war operations.

Would Investigate Montreal Police

MONTREAL (CP)—Two justices of the Quebec Supreme Court had under consideration today a request for a judicial inquiry into administration of the Montreal police department.

Contents of the petition, presented Wednesday on behalf of a group of local organizations, were not divulged pending its formal filing. But if it parallels a previously rejected petition it not only will charge existence of a $10,000,000-a-year vice and gambling ring linked with laxity and corruption by police, but will recite names and other details in specific allegations.

The new request was presented informally by J. A. Penverne, K.C., representing the Citizens' Vigilance League, which, with a number of other organizations, is sponsoring the petition.

Last December, a petition presented by Mr. Penverne on behalf of 74 citizens, was rejected by Chief Justice W. L. Bond as insufficiently specific, lacking names and details.

Trustees Endorse Victoria Resolution On Report Cards

PRINCE GEORGE—The B.C. School Trustees Convention endorsed the Victoria resolution asking that a new style of students' report card should be drafted, which would show parents more clearly what progress the pupil is making.

In the second day of the conference, the trustees endorsed the stand of Ald. F. G. Mulliner, president, that full support should be given the Provincial Department of Education in the implementation of the Cameron Report.

Ald. Mulliner pointed out that the new deal in education has coincided with deferred building programs and abnormal conditions.

Col. F. T. Fahey, deputy minister of education, who is attending the conference promised that adjustments are pending in the near future as the key to the whole new system rests on an assessment code being arrived at.

The convention also went on record as favoring revision of teachers' salary grants to look after teachers brought into B.C. during the present shortage. They suggested too, that a new basic salary schedule be worked out by the Teachers' Federation and the trustees, to be compulsory on all school boards.

Enforcement of a rule whereby teachers and staffs of all schools would be required to possess a certificate of health, and limitation of school classes to 35 pupils as soon as possible, both Vancouver Island sponsored resolutions, also received endorsement of the convention.

Sessions of the convention closed Wednesday.

Start Filming Of School Pictures

"Shooting" of the film sponsored by the Greater Victoria School Board, which is designed to show the needs of the school system here, began today.

Cameraman Douglas Flintoff was on the job all morning at Central Junior High School, where the first scenes are being taken. Following a script, the camera was taken through the different rooms and sections of Central Junior High, showing the congestions and other features of the school which need fixing up.

This will be followed by scenes taken in other schools throughout the system, and the film is to be used in connection with the School Board campaign to have an extensive five-year building program started in the immediate future.

Mrs. W. C. Woodward Gives Canadian Club Farewell Message

In what was probably her last official appearance in Victoria as chataleine of Government House, Mrs. W. C. Woodward attended a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, Wednesday afternoon at the Empress Hotel. She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Maclean.

Speaking briefly, as honorary president of the club, Mrs. Woodward urged mothers everywhere to think of the future.

She pointed out there was still a tremendous amount of work to be done if beauty of living and a better understanding of life in general is to be achieved. "We came bravely through the war years and we say we have peace," she said, "but it would seem to me we now have war on the home front."

"It is up to you as mothers," she concluded, "to widen your sphere of influence. Not to bring back life as it used to be but a better kind of life. A life that includes religion and thought for others in every-day practice."

RECEIVES GIFT

The president, Mrs. K. C. Drury, presented Mrs. Woodward with a hand-woven bag as a parting gift from the club.

Wool for this bag came from British Columbia's sheep, carded, dyed and worked in an authentic British Columbia Indian design by a member of the Victoria Hand Weavers' Guild.

Mr. Pratt, press attache in the office of the High Commissioner for Australia at Ottawa, spoke to the meeting, repeating a talk he had given earlier at the Men's Club. He also showed a film in color, "Australia Today." Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. and a past president of the club, thanked the speaker at the conclusion of his address.

J. H. B. Scott spoke on the forthcoming Community Chest drive.

With Mrs. Drury and honor guests on the platform were Mrs. H. L. Smith and Mrs. J. M. Ewing. Mrs. W. H. Wilson was at the piano.

Kenneth Beattie Weds Alberta Girl

The United Church Manse at Hanna, Alta., was the scene of a quiet ceremony Sept. 20, when Rev. O. A. McNeill united in marriage Ruby Ermina Grantham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Grantham of Dowling, Alta., and Kenneth Chester Beattie, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Beattie, Victoria.

The bride wore the traditional gown of white-satin with floor-length veil. She was attended by her sister, Miss Vera Grantham, in a gown of shell pink crepe. Louis Grantham was groomsmen.

Following a luncheon reception, the bride and groom left by motor for Victoria, where they will make their home.

Quiet Wedding Held At St. Andrew's Church

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Victoria, was the scene of a quiet ceremony Sept. 23 which united in marriage Mrs. Edith Maud Harkirk of Vancouver and George Henry Eaton of Eugene, Oregon. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated.

Among the guests were Mrs. E. M. Knott and Mrs. M. A. Parkins of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton will reside in Colorado, U.S.A.

Princess Leads Dancing Revival

ABERDEEN, Scotland (CP) — Princess Elizabeth's enthusiasm for Highland and Scottish country dancing has led to a widespread revival of traditional dances throughout Scotland. She has spent much of her spare time studying and practicing the intricate movements of many of the older dances and when she attended an all-Scottish recital here she surprised experts with her specialized knowledge.

She requested "Mrs. Stewart's Strathspey," an old dance, only recently discovered and little known.

Lord Inverclyde Acts As Godfather

Baby Wilson Jobson gurgles happily in the arms of his godfather, Lord Inverclyde, while his proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson F. Jobson, look on.

During his visit to Victoria, recently, Lord Inverclyde, chairman of the Scottish Advisory Committee of the British Sailors' Society, acted as godfather to the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson F. Jobson.

The christening ceremony took place last Sunday at First United Church with the Rev. William Martin officiating. The baby received the names Wilson Earl Cameron. A christening bowl used was also used in christening the baby's mother and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. T. W. Heggie of Greenock, Scotland. Mrs. Emily Fitzgerald acted as godmother.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the baby's parents, 3020 Jutland Road. Those present, besides the principals, were the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Jobson and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Carpenter.

Lord Inverclyde is an old friend of Mrs. Jobson's family in Scotland.

Wedding Day Honors Parents

Choosing the 37th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David E. Murphy, Winnipeg, Man., for her own wedding day, Miss Marie Helen Louise Murphy became the bride of Albert Joseph (Mike) Kelpin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Kelpin, 1116 Princess Avenue, at 9.30 this morning.

Vases of white chrysanthemums and tall standard bouquets of delicate pink gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated St. Andrew's Cathedral for the ceremony.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a pearl white satin gown, fashioned with sheer net yoke outlined in satin roses, short sleeves, complemented with satin cuffs, ending in lily points over the wrists, fitted bodice and full skirt, slightly in train. Her veil of French illusion net was held by a scalloped headband, and she carried an ivory prayerbook with ribbon markers tied with pink moss rosebuds.

Her only attendant, Mrs. George Fatt, was maid of honor in a gown of turquoise crepe with tiny hat of rose color, trimmed with matching ostrich plumes. She carried a rose ostrich plume fan banked with sweetheart roses.

G. W. LaCroix was groomsmen and Jack Maltman, Hugh F. Russell of Vancouver and George Fatt were ushers.

Following the marriage vows, a nuptial mass was celebrated by Father Roland Roberts of Vancouver, during which Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Caesar Franck's "Panis Angelicus" were sung.

Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Kelpin assisted the bride party in welcoming guests at a reception held in the lounge of the nurses' residence, St. Joseph's Hospital. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked with ivory tapers and decorated with white swansonia and double pink heather.

G. W. LaCroix proposed the bride's toast and J. Webb of Vancouver proposed a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Murphy.

A honeymoon will be spent at points on the island. Mrs. Kelpin changed her wedding costume for a brown two-piece dress of silk faille, chic brown hat with white wine feather quill trim, chocolate brown accessories and a rose beige topcoat with light lynx collar. A corsage bouquet of Talisman roses completed her costume.

On their return the young couple will take up residence in Victoria. The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Fall Furs Shown At Crystal

A preview of the latest styles in fall furs and millinery from the Hudson's Bay Company was given Wednesday at a fashion show and tea sponsored by Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

Fashionable ensembles modeled by Mesdames G. Sword, W. Findlay, W. McEwan, R. Renfrew, W. Passmore and J. E. Elliott featured smart tuxedo fronts, casually full backs and the deep-set push-up sleeves.

A commentary was given by Miss Betty McGuire of the Hudson's Bay millinery department. Models appeared on a stage decorated with baskets of fall flowers, and crossed the floor to pose on a raised dais.

Among new furs shown was the Lincoln lamb, styled with casually full back; silver-grey muskrat, fashioned with the latest Parisian sleeves; three-quarter fingertip coats. Canadian squirrel, Persian lamb and Russian squirrel coats all featured the full push-up sleeves, which can be worn over smart suits or pushed up to elbow-length when worn with the new long cocktail gloves and fashionable jewelry.

Fall millinery shows a definite trend towards the higher crown, with many delightful new colors making their debut. One of the newest color combinations is that of radar blue and paddy green, while smart new bonnets were presented in shades of smoke white, pearl grey and bitter sweet. Shown for the first time was a head-hugging model of radar blue with nail-head trim.

Modeling popular teen-age outfits were Misses Rita Price, Dorothy Halliwell and Margaret Jean Gordon.

Tea was served following the fashion show at individual tables decorated with vases of autumn flowers.

Mrs. G. B. Elliott was general convener for the afternoon, assisted by Mrs. D. W. Carter.

Search Party Out For Enslaved Fliers

CHENG TU, China. (AP)—A United States army search team plunged deeper into China's wild and mountainous far west today seeking long-lost American airmen feared captives of the fierce slave-holding Lolos.

On the second day of their mission the soldiers were believed to be from five to 11 days' march from their goal.

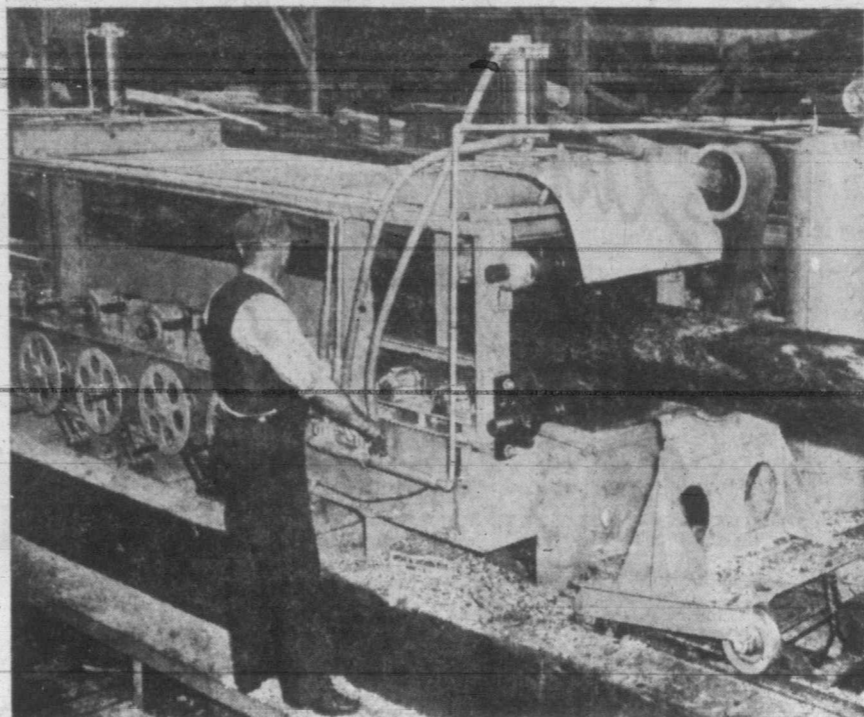

That goal is the valley of Chinkiang.

Missionaries have reported at least eight enslaved white men were seen grinding corn or tending flocks in that region.

Lt. Col. Herbert W. Wurtzler and his detachment will try to learn if the white captives are United States airmen downed two and more years ago on the perilous flight "over the hump," from India to China.

One official source asserted search teams had entered the fringes of Lololand before and were told by the tribesmen they would have to ransom any prisoners they were looking for.

New Machine Profitably Saws Pee-Wee Logs

Developed on Vancouver Island, the machine shown above in operation at Manning Lumber Mills Ltd., 1910 Store Street, is claimed by its inventor, Louis J. Tansky, to make possible lumber manufacture from 20 or 40 per cent of standing timber previously wasted. A portable sawmill, it may be hauled into the heart of the forest by a tractor. Development of the machine, built by Hafer Machine Co. Ltd. here, has been watched by lumbermen as far east as Wisconsin.

Treads On Royal Toes—They Pay For It

By KATHARINE SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—Evelyn McCullagh has trod on some of the royal toes still extant; her only reaction has been to order the blue bloods to keep their feet out of her way.

She has danced with kings and rajahs, been the confidante of sultans and the Saturday night date of a prince. She once helped a short-of-cash queen unload an $80,000 pearl necklace. Most of it was fun; the dancing part was strictly business.

Miss McCullagh is a sophisticated, sparkling Englishwoman who once won an international ballroom dancing championship. Despite the toppling crowns in a postwar world, there are still a few maharajahs and sultans left, and she hopes to teach them to tango "as sinuously as a snake moves through the grass" before she retires.

It was the Maharajah of Patterbugging, although she once taught an Indian princess to tap dance.

"He asked me to teach his daughters both the man's and the girl's parts so they could dance together. They used to wear beautiful saris draped around them, and it took me some time before I realized the saris were dotted with diamonds, not rhinestones."

From them on an increasing number of those born with jeweled platinum spoons in their mouths came to learn.

Among the gayest was Prince Tongtor of Siam. He wanted to brush up on the latest variations of the tango.

"Prince Tongtor had a great sense of fun. He insisted that I needed a 'holiday' now and then."

"His idea of a gay 'holiday' was this: a movie, lunch at the Savoy, another movie, tea at the Savoy, another movie, dinner at the Savoy, another movie, late supper at the Savoy, and finally a midnight movie."

SIGN LANGUAGE

"The Prince was an excellent dancer."

It was because of Prince Tongtor that the late King Prajadhipok of Siam decided to learn to dance.

"The King was very timid and shy. He wanted to be able to dance in public, but he didn't want anyone to know he was taking lessons. He wanted to surprise his wife."

Once in a while Miss McCullagh found herself running short of languages, and as in the case of the Sultan of Pahang, had to resort to signs. The Sultan could speak neither French nor English.

"I had to move his arms for him and point to feet positions. We were working slowly. His aides were supposed to be practising with other instructors. All of a sudden, they started whooping like 10-year-old boys. I turned around and there these dignified men were sliding up and down the polished, waxed floor. Just like little children."

The Sultan became an ardent dancing fan and offered Miss Mc-

After she taught the Maharajah a few graceful steps, he decided

Among her pupils were King Alfonso of Spain, the late Duke of Kent of England, one-time British Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin ("a stolid but earnest pupil") and the Maharajah of Bikanir, a portly gentleman with stiffly waxed mustaches who used to hire the Mayfair Hotel ballroom for his private lessons and assigned guards to insure privacy.

Girl Starts Button Plant

A new industry for Victoria, making of specialty ceramic buttons and belt buckles has been started at Thetis Lake by Nora Harris, former member of the R.C.A.F. (W.D.). Miss Harris (left) is shown dipping buttons in the glaze, while a friend, Mrs. Ruth Bissell from Swift Current, sorts some of the buttons already made.

Miss Harris has used her re-establishment and waiting credits to start the industry, and obtains her clays from Saskatchewan. Her father assisted her in building the log cabin workshop on four acres of property she owns at Thetis Lake. She has an electric kiln and dozens of different designs and patterns for her buttons.

At the present time, she said, four Victoria stores are distributing her buttons, which went on sale a week ago. She has hopes of getting wider distribution through Vancouver stores soon.

2 All-Aluminum Ships Planned

PORTLAND (AP)—Plans for the first all-aluminum ships in history are nearing completion, and bids will be asked within six months. Harman Lewis, Alcoa Steamship Company president, said here.

Two vessels are planned, the larger capable of carrying 8,000 tons of cargo, 1,500 more than a steel ship of the same size. It will be 400 feet long and Diesel driven. The smaller ship will be steam powered. Lewis estimated the ships would be on the seas 18 months or two years after the contracts are let.

He revealed plans for the aluminum ships at the launching of the Ss. Alcoa Cavalier here. The Cavalier features aluminum-sheathed upper decks and aluminum lifeboats and passenger cabin trimmings.

Legion Soccer Club Battles Saints Here Saturday; United Will Travel

With Victoria United playing in Vancouver this week-end, the soccer faithful are expected to flock to Athletic Park to witness an exhibition match between the Canadian Legion eleven and St. Saviours of the mainland league. This is the only fixture carded on the local scene in senior company.

The Legion, under manager Louis DeCosta and coach George Kulai, has lined up a strong team for this engagement, and feels confident of providing the visitors with an interesting afternoon's sport.

The veteran Louis DeCosta will guard the nets, with Joe Robbins and Phil Andrejko, a newcomer from Winnipeg, at the fullback spots. On the half line will be such capable performers as Glen Robbins at centre-half, assisted by Alec McCormick at right half and Cliff Robbins at left half.

Charlie Musgrave will handle the centre forward position with Jim Akenciose and Andy Anderson at the insides. Ernie Costain

JOE ROBBINS
... fullback

will patrol the left wing spot, with either George Duneau or Ken Jones on the right flank. Hank Slater and Jack Meadley will be available for relief duty and will probably see action during the afternoon.

Led by George Steele, ex-Old Country player who packs plenty of scoring punch, the St. Saviours of the Pacific Coast League have a strong club. The Saints dropped a 4 to 3 verdict to Nanaimo in the up-island centre last Sunday in a regular Coast League match.

UNITED STRENGTHENED

The Victoria United, strengthened by the addition of George Payne and Alan Heside, will leave for Vancouver Friday evening where they will meet the strong St. Andrews team in a regular Pacific Coast League encounter.

Manager Ralph Bell would make the trip with the locals and will start on the back line. Rookie Wright is not expected to play as he was injured in the opener here against North Shore.

St. Andrews, who are rated on a par with the powerful North Shore team, will prove no push-over for Cosier's young eleven, who dropped their first game of the season on Saturday, 5 to 1.

Sports Mirror

By W. E. "SONNY" WALKER

When the revived Big Four League swings into action at Athletic Park, Saturday night, another of popular intercity sport, discontinued during the war, will return to Victoria.

Although the league was not in operation during the war years, Victoria was not without football altogether, as some of the more enterprising of our sports-minded citizens kept the game alive by the formation of junior American grid teams.

Notable among these were Jimmy Smith, former member of the Revellers, 1940 champions, and assistant coach of this year's team; Bro. Kelly of the faculty of St. Louis College who introduced the sport to that institution; and Billy Bishop, ardent football enthusiast who holds the post of treasurer with the Mustangs this season.

These men, and many others, too numerous to mention, deserve a great deal of credit for their untiring efforts in devoting their time and interest to the developing of junior grid stars in the city.

The Victoria Mustangs have been fortunate in acquiring the services of such an outstanding football personality as Ed Rorvig to handle the coaching duties of this year's squad.

Rorvig, a quiet affable person, started his career with the University of North Dakota, later moved to Calgary, where he starred for the Bronks of the old Interprovincial Union. He was also engaged in the coaching of several high school teams in that city, one of which captured the provincial championship.

The managerial reigns of the new club have fallen on the shoulders of Wally Smith, rotund sports enthusiast, who has been connected in that capacity with various branches of sport in the city in recent years.

The Lipton Cup, emblematic of British Columbia football supremacy, is at present held by the Revellers, who captured the trophy in 1940, and it will be up to the Mustangs, in the role of defending titleholders, to retain possession of the silverware for Victoria.

Only two members of the championship team of that year will be seen in action with the new club. Don Douglas, burly lineman, and the most experienced man on the squad, will be back, as will as Vic Dale, hard-running fullback, who was voted the outstanding rookie of the 1940 season.

The remainder of the team will be built around such junior stars as Steve Rynoksi, Billy O'Connell, "Toad" Garnet and Fred Noonan of last year's St. Louis College eleven, and Johnny Byng and Bert Nelson of prairie pigskin fame.

League officials have announced that the loop will adhere strictly to Canadian Rugby Union rules, with the object in view of challenging the east for the Grey Cup, possibly next season.

Cardinals Shutout By Bucky Walters Of Reds; Dodgers Blow Chances To Tie St. Louis

It is doubtful today if any major League baseball manager ever bowed out with more satisfaction than William B. (Wilkinsburg Bill) McKechnie, erstwhile boss of Cincinnati Reds.

McKechnie managed his last game for the Reds last night. He was "fired" three days ago. His final act as the Redleg boss was to mastermind the Reds to a 6 to 0 victory over St. Louis Cardinals—an act which might cause Brooklyn Dodgers—a team Bill admits he dislikes—to nose out the club he formerly managed for the National League flag.

McKechnie knew full well that the Dodgers, who earlier in the season he had accused of "dirty playing" against his Reds, had lost, 11 to 9, to Philadelphia Phillies. At St. Louis victory would just about seal Brooklyn's pennant hopes as it would give the Cards a two-game advantage with only three games left.

He nominated Bucky Walters, always a tough cookie for the Cards, to pitch. Walters pitched one of the finest games of the season to blank the Birds with seven hits.

Scoring five runs in the first inning, Boston Braves deadlocked the Cubs for third place by defeating New York Giants 6 to 5. The Cubs lost a 16-inning game to Pittsburgh by the same score.

FELLER SIX OFF RECORD

Bobby Feller fanned 10 to boost his season's strikeout total to 337, only six short of Rube Waddell's listed record. However, Feller once again received poor hitting support from his mates and dropped a 4 to 1 decision to Joe Haynes and the Chicago White Sox.

Despite Hank Greenberg's 42nd home run, Detroit Tigers were beaten by St. Louis Browns, 8 to 7. Joe Dobson pitched the American League champion Boston Red Sox to their 103rd victory with a five-hit 5-2 win over

Days That Used To Be

New York Yankees. The Athletics executed a triple play but lost a doubleheader to Washington, 6-3 and 7-4.

REDBIRDS' SMART INFIELD

The bulwark that has enabled St. Louis Cardinals to stick in the National League flag race, despite a series of unhappy experiences including raids by the Mexican League, is a staunch, tightly-knit infield that gives away few runs and provides the club with a great deal of its punch.

If the Redbird quartette finds itself in the World Series next week, it will suffer little by comparison with the set of sluggers who helped Boston Red Sox make a runaway of the American League, even though the latter group includes two such fearsome swatters as Johnny Pesky and Bobby Doerr.

The Card infield contains the National League's (and maybe baseball's) greatest hitter in first-baseman Stan Musial (.368); the league's best third-baseman in Whitey Kurowski (.302); and the stringbean who for some seasons has been known as "Mr. Shortstop," Marty Marion.

DOERR'S HITTING POWER

Against this fine trio the Red Sox offer the game's outstanding second baseman in Doerr, who has knocked across 115 runs through Tuesday's games to average .272, and the stocky little Pesky, who still is clouting a terrific .337, has made 203 hits—more than any other player on the Sox team and has fielded his position to match.

Brooklyn, clinging tenaciously to its chance at the big play-off, boasts only one infield star of acknowledged magnitude, shortstop Peevée Reese, and he is about as good as they come.

Dodger fans will die swearing that their second-baseman Eddie Stanky, is the best in the world, but they might be accused of prejudice. At first and third the flock is little better than Minor League.

Motorcyclists Prepare For Climb

Absent from the local sports scene for six years, the Victoria Motorcycle Club is rounding out its plans to present a revival of the thrill-producing Thanksgiving Day hill-climbs on Mount Douglas' slopes Oct. 14, it was learned today.

A fall event that attracted hundreds of spectators in previous days to watch the motorcycle jockeys endeavor to pilot their iron steeds up the 200-foot ascent of Hill No. 3, officials are forecasting a healthy entry to try for the silverware and prize money at stake this year.

For several weeks members have been preparing for this

Intermediate Soccer Circuit Reformed

The British Columbia Intermediate Football Association, formerly known as the Junior Football Alliance, will again function this season, according to word from Charlie Lewis, lower island junior and juvenile commissioner.

The purpose of the association is to provide soccer competition for players unable to make the grade in senior ranks. In past years it was one of the strongest organizations in the province.

With considerable interest being shown in the up-island centres of Nanaimo, Cumberland and Alberni, and a strong intermediate league loop in Vancouver, the reformation certainly boosts player interest in the league.

Reinstatement to intermediate ranks has been made easy. Any player who has played senior soccer prior to Sept. 1, 1946, may be registered as an intermediate up until Nov. 30 without the necessity of being reinstated. After that date, former senior players signing with intermediate clubs must be reinstated.

200 Gape As Pastor Prays For Dodgers

NEW YORK (AP)—Rev. Benney J. F. Benson, pastor of the Brooklyn Dutch Reformed Church, knelt bareheaded on the steps of Brooklyn Borough Hall today and prayed for victory for Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League baseball pennant race.

"We're praying for those Dodgers," he intoned while about 200 persons gaped. "Their chances don't look so good right now but everyone is praying for the Bums to win. We ask you not to give the Anheusers out there in St. Louis any better break than you give us and we ask this in all sincerity."

Zale To Make First Defence Of Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Making his initial defence of his middleweight title since leaving the service, Tony Zale was ready today to swap punches with Rocky Graziano of New York in a scheduled 15-round go at Yankee Stadium tomorrow night.

It marks the first time in 20 years that a defending middleweight champion enters the ring with a clear-cut, undisputed title claim. Ever since Mickey Walker's reign, there was disagreement over the right titleholder until Zale defeated George Abrams in 1941.

Because of the classy style Zale showed in his final workout yesterday, the betting fraternity has sliced the price on the Gary, Ind., boy to 8 to 5. The book-making clients liking Graziano had to lay 9 to win 5.

Mike Jacobs, the 20th Century Boxing Club impresario, expects a crowd of 40,000 to produce a $400,000 gate.

Schroeder Upsets Petra

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles, former national men's singles champion, Wednesday upset Yvon Petra, Wimbledon champion from France, 7-5, 6-3, as the third round feature of the 20th annual Pacific southwest tennis tournament.

National champion Jack Kramer, top-seeded in the domestic bracket, breezed through Philippe Washer, Belgian champion, 6-1, 6-4.

Boston Red Sox Paid Little Money For Championship Team

Tom Yawkey, owner of the American League champions, paid out $4,000,000 to buy a championship team in 1933 but they never won a pennant. The team which is now the American League winner, the first Boston has won since 1910, cost Yawkey practically nothing. Read what it cost the Red Sox to buy their star Ted Williams and their pitcher Hughson and Ferris. This week's Liberty Magazine gives you the complete data on the Red Sox players. Liberty Magazine is on sale today at your magazine dealers and is distributed from Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Hockey Snapshots

By The Canadian Press

There are plenty of critics who claim rulemakers have ruined hockey in recent years but the fellows who lay their cash on the line apparently are satisfied with the new streamlined style. Any way they're battling each other for places in the line-up for season subscribers' seats at around the National Hockey League circuit.

Chicago Black Hawks moved into the west's hottest hockey incubator when they signed a three-year agreement to sponsor the Winnipeg Rangers. The hook-up not only includes the junior Rangers but also juveniles, midgets and bantams, operated by the club. It's good news for the Rangers but sad tidings for Moose Jaw, Sask., as Manager Bill Tobin said the Hawks had relinquished arrangements to sponsor the Canucks there.

Meanwhile at Regina, Hawk coach Johnny Gottselig was trying to figure if he's running a team or a league as he prepared to handle 67 players expected to check in today. Johnny avers that it will be a young man's team with defenceman Reg Hamilton the "dodderer" at 34. With such youngsters as Leo Riese, up from Kansas City Pla Mors, after rearguard posts, Reg will have to hustle to hold his job.

Hockey was secondary news at the Winnipeg camp of New York Rangers where it was announced centre Alf Pike had become the father of twins—a boy and a girl. That makes three girls and one boy for the Pikes and Mrs. Pike hopes that junior will follow in Alf's footsteps and be a Ranger.

Revised contracts—for the extended 60-game schedule and including new player-benefit clauses—only reached Montreal Canadiens' camp a couple of days back, but Manager Frank Selke announces six players have signed already. Toe Blake, Elmer Lach, Butch Bouchard, Bill Durnan, Ken Mosdell and Jimmy Peters have agreed to terms.

Harry Watson checked in from Detroit Red Wings to bolster the wobbly defence of Toronto Maple Leafs in training at St. Catharines, Ont. Manager Con Smythe figures if anybody can convert the flashy forward into a rearguard it's Coach Hap Day whom he rates "the best defence coach in the world."

Just when the experts seemed to be running out of trick names for forward lines, Smythe came up with the "Flying Forts" for his Fort William-born trio of Gaye Stewart, Bud Poile and Gus Bodnar.

Expert Pitching Features Opening Coast Ball Playoffs

The opening of the Pacific Coast Baseball League's post season playoffs cast the champion San Francisco Seals and runner-up Oakland Aorns in the winning groove, but both clubs will have to beat the top strikeout artists of the loop to stay there tonight.

Expert mound performances gave San Francisco a 3 to 0 shut-out over the Hollywood Stars and Oakland a 3 to 1 victory over the Los Angeles Angels in the initial games last night.

Right-handed Larry Jansen, with 30 triumphs against six losses during the regular season, mastered Hollywood, allowing six scattered hits.

Another righthander, Francis Shea, speedball winner of 15 and loser of five for the Aorns during the campaign, similarly set the Angels down with six safeties.

U.S. Women's Golf

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, Colo., was the lone survivor among the favorites as the other hot shots bowed out of the revived National Women's Amateur Golf Tournament in the opening rounds of play Wednesday.

The hard-hitting Babe played sensationally in eliminating game Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, 4 and 3, in the morning session over the Southern Hills County Club 6,232-yard course and came back for another 4 and 3 win over Betty Jean Rucker, Spokane, Wash., in the afternoon.

NERVE PAIN ATTACKS LIMBS VICIOUSLY

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

A painful nerve in an arm or leg may result from an injury in which only a part of the nerve is destroyed. This condition, called causalgia, is most common following military injuries, because of their destructive nature.

Patients with causalgia usually say that the pain started immediately after the injury, although a few hours or days may intervene in some cases. The pain, which is distributed over that part of the extremity supplied by the sensitive portion of the nerve, is variously described as throbbing, aching, knife-like, stabbing, burning, twisting, and crushing. After it develops it does not cease, although it may vary in severity.

In most cases, the severest pain is felt during the day, although some patients complain most of night pain.

(Answer to previous puzzle)

unusual conditions is one of its most characteristic features. Sudden movements, loud noises, jolting, and contact with dry surfaces make the pain worse. Noise may be so distressing that the patient prefers to remain in bed with his ears plugged with cotton.

Why contact with a smooth surface, such as a bed sheet or a piece of paper, makes the pain worse cannot be explained.

Just as unusual circumstances make the pain worse, it is relieved by unusual methods. The majority of the patients with causalgia find that wrapping the affected part with a damp cloth is soothing; some prefer a cool cloth, while others like it warm. Patients often go to such extremes in applying moist applications to the skin that maceration or softening is produced.

Patients with causalgia may prefer to remain in a quiet room and permit no one to speak to them, as this makes life more bearable.

OPERATION BRINGS CURE

Treatment of causalgia depends on the severity, as an occasional case apparently subsides in a few months without any special treatment. The more severe varieties, however, require a surgical operation on the sympathetic nerves in the back, in which those supplying the affected part are cut.

Temporary relief from pain may be obtained by blocking out the nerves with injections of procaine.

Pain relief may also follow an operation on the affected nerve in which a nerve tumor which has formed at the point of injury is removed.

Remarkable relief is obtained, in the majority of cases, by sympathetic nerve operations, with many patients reporting complete disappearance of all pain and no further difficulty with noise, excitement or jarring.

Fraser Salmon Catch Valued At $4,000,000 For 1946 Season

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Fraser River sockeye salmon fishermen are just completing their most successful season in four years with a total catch that will bring them a gross revenue of possibly more than $4,000,000.

Fishing for sockeye salmon on the Fraser was closed indefinitely at noon Wednesday and will not be reopened unless such action is found advisable by the Pacific International Salmon Commission.

More than 3,000 gillnet boats, many of them operated by veterans of the Second Great War, participated in the rich hauls as the Adams River sockeye run moved up the Fraser River to spawning grounds.

The Adams River run, the largest on the Fraser River, is estimated to have numbered more than 12,000,000 fish this year.

B. M. Brennan, International Salmon Commission director, reported U.S. fishermen caught about 3,500,000 fish as they moved through the Strait of Juan de Fuca and the Puget Sound area en route to the Fraser.

Canadian fishermen had caught almost 3,700,000 by noon Monday and were expected to run this total to more than 4,000,000 fish. Another 4,000,000 were believed to have escaped the fishermen's nets.

The director said the escapees through Hell's Gate had "picked up" in the past few days.

And salmon fishing on the British Columbia northern coast will close Friday, with the exception of seine and gillnet fishing in the Rivers and Smith Inlets areas, and trolling in the Queen Charlotte Islands area.

C.P.R. To Build Two-Level Pier At Nanaimo By Next Summer

NANAIMO (Special)—A new two-level pier at Nanaimo, including a separate automobile ramp and large parking areas, is planned for next summer as part of the Canadian Pacific's post-war program for Vancouver Island. It was announced here by W. A. Mather, vice-president of western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Wednesday.

Plans call for work to start as soon as low tides will permit laying of the concrete foundations. The new pier will replace the present facilities at Nanaimo and is planned for quick handling of passenger, automobile and freight traffic.

A two-story building will be built on the site. Waiting rooms and ticket office will be situated on the upper floor and passengers will enter the building on the upper level by a separate driveway.

Automobiles in transport will travel to and from the new pier by a wide ramp to be built from the foot of Bastion Street, entering the pier on the lower level where parking spaces will be provided. Freight sheds will also be situated on the lower level.

Mr. Mather conferred yesterday with a citizen's delegation at Nanaimo, and in outlining the company's plan for the new pier, said that the Canadian Pacific Railway was fully aware of the growing importance of Vancouver Island and of Nanaimo.

At the same time it was announced by Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the Canadian Pacific's B.C. Coast Service, that on the return of Ss. Princess Kathleen to service, increased automobile accommodation would be provided on the Nanaimo route. It is planned that one of the Victoria night ships will make a daily run between Vancouver and Nanaimo allowing extra space for 60 automobiles each way.

Civic Employees Ask Higher Living Bonus

The Vancouver Island Regional Council of the joint council of public employees has applied to the City Council for an increase in the cost-of-living bonus, to be granted to all associated groups of Victoria city employees.

In the latter it was pointed out that the cost of living has increased materially, and the Dominion government index should be taken as a basis for the amount of the increase.

Promotions Announced For Finance Department

Announcements of 22 promotions in the Finance Department, some of them already made, others pending, were made today by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb.

The changes were necessitated by the retirement of several officials on superannuation Sept. 30. In all cases the promotions have been made within the service, Mr. Anscomb said. More

U.B.C.M. Approves Higher Pensions For Civic Workers

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS (Special)—The increase of the minimum pension paid to civic employees on superannuation from $30 to $50 a month was approved in principle by the Union of B.C. Municipalities at its final session Wednesday after hearing a report from the special superannuation committee.

The new plan, if it becomes operative, will have the municipalities contributing 8½ per cent of their total payroll into the superannuation fund instead of the present 7 per cent, and the employees will also be asked to contribute an additional 1½ per cent. The provincial government will be expected to bear any further extra cost that the new scheme might entail.

The question has been handed back to the special superannuation committee for further consideration, and after the individual municipalities have endorsed the scheme, the executive will be asked to take the matter up with provincial authorities.

Approximately 12 resolutions which were submitted to the convention from the floor of the house were not considered, as it was decided to hold to the original ruling that only resolutions submitted in time for inclusion in the printed program should go before the convention.

Peace Conference Session To Act On Big 4 Suggestion

PARIS (AP)—A plenary session of the Peace Conference was called tonight to consider proposals of the four-power Foreign Ministers' Council to speed the work of the delegates.

The Secretariat-General called the session on a notice of less than five hours, apparently because of a deadlock over the proposed agenda for approving the treaty draft with Finland, first of the five European peace treaty drafts to be completed.

The Foreign Ministers' Council program to speed the conference has been drafted for presentation by the Foreign Ministers' deputies, an informed source said. The major point in this program would be a time limit on speeches in commissions to enable the conference to meet an Oct. 15 deadline for completing its deliberations.

In the military commission, meanwhile, the delegates decided to order Bulgaria to disband her armed forces with the exception of a "land army" including frontier troops in a total strength of 55,000 men. The commission adopted articles 10 and 11 of the Bulgarian treaty ordering the former satellite's armed forces disbanded within six months from the date the treaty becomes effective. Bulgaria will be forbidden to train any personnel not included in the army of 55,000, a navy of 3,500 and an air force of 5,200 men.

In the Italian Economic Commission delegates agreed on a principle of 75 per cent refund on war damage done to property owned by nationals of the United Nations, but the British reserved the right to continue to urge 100 per cent payment.

WELSH SAY MOUNTAIN CAVES LEAD TO FAIRYLAND
Wales is a land of mountains and mining, and much of the mining takes place in the mountains. Thousands of Welshmen make their living by digging ores from the earth.

Coal and iron are important products of Wales. More coal has been sent abroad from the Welsh ports of Cardiff than from Newcastle in England.

Slate is another product of Wales. The rock is split into sheets, and much of it is used in roofing buildings. In former times, more than now, slate from Wales and elsewhere was used for making small "school slates." Pupils would write on such slates, and would clean off the writing after a lesson was finished.

In the mountains of Wales are many caves. Long ago there arose a story that the way to fairyland lay through the caves.

Fairies play as much a part in the folklore of Wales as in the folklore of Ireland.

Welsh fairies are said to differ a great deal in size. Many of them are supposed to be so small that they can hide in blossoms like those of the foxglove plant, while others have a height of from 12 to 24 inches, or even more.

Here is the way a Welsh storyteller might describe the fairies of his country:

"Some fairies are men, others women. They dress in silken clothing, the color being green, white, red or blue.

"Fairyland is ruled by a king, named Gwyn ap Nudd. He fishes in ponds, and among his servants is the owl. The king sits on a golden throne, and around him are attendants clad in red and blue.

"Fairyland is a place of plenty, where everything is beautiful and where all are happy. When the fairies play harps, they make sweet music. On moonlight nights they come out of their kingdom and dance in a ring."

The Welshman might also speak of cases where fairies and people have talked together. There is a belief in Wales that fairies do more good than harm to people.

Senators Say Abolition Proposal Not New In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Action of the Canadian Congress of Labor in resolving that the Canadian Senate be abolished as an "undemocratic body" probably will just bring a smile and a shrug from most of the 96 members of the Upper Chamber. It's an old story to them.

That suggestion crops up frequently in letters the Senators receive in their daily batch of mail during sessions of Parliament. Some letters are serious, others jocular.

Senator James Murdock, Liberal Senator from Ontario and a former Canadian labor leader, listened with interest to the text of the Congress' resolution, declared he had no comment and, then, in an aside, chuckled: "Why I've got 300 letters in my desk saying the same thing."

His attitude, too, was confirmed by one of Canada's leading constitutional authorities, Thomas Vren, Liberal Senator from Quebec and a former Speaker of the Red Chamber.

"There's nothing surprising in the attitude of certain groups of labor organizations in their ambition to abolish the Upper Chamber," he said.

He added that personally, he was "quite satisfied" a more mature consideration would bring A. R. Mosher, president of the C.C.L., and his associates to a "more sober judgment."

'ADMIRAL' ANGRY
LUNENBURG, N.S. (CP)—Tall, salty Senator William Buff, known by the nickname of "Admiral," rose up in wrath and castigated President A. R. Mosher and the Canadian Congress of Labor for passing a resolution Wednesday calling for abolition of the Senate.

Declaring Mosher "and his crowd" were "agitators, troublemakers," who should "go back and work instead of drawing money from poor devils working in mines and steel plants," the outspoken Nova Scotia Liberal said in an interview: "It's all right for them to sit back and pass damn fool resolutions, but none of them dare come before the public for election."

Of the Senate the big Scot said: "If they want to abolish it it doesn't make any difference to me. But the Senate is a good body—it's done a lot of good work. It's not only a safety valve but also a steady influence on Canadian public life. It is not outmoded and it isn't antiquated... it's a part of the constitution of the country."

Girls Attacked Alone On Streets

An outbreak of attacks on lone women on the streets Wednesday night was reported by city and Saanich police.

An arrest was made early this morning in one case and a young man was remanded in city police court until tomorrow when he appears on a charge of assaulting an 11-year-old girl. Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison asked for the remand stating he required the time so that a medical examination could be made of the accused.

The assault on the young girl was alleged to have been made at Graham and Bay Streets at approximately 8:15 Wednesday night. The girl told police a man put his hand over her mouth and pulled her to the ground. She screamed and the man jumped on a bicycle and rode away.

At 9:05 a 14-year-old girl, resident of Forester Avenue, was attacked in the 2800 block of Richmond Road. She told Saanich police a man ran out while she was riding by on her bicycle, and pulled her off the bike. She said he broke her glasses and when she screamed, told her she would not get hurt if she kept quiet. When she screamed louder, he became frightened and fled.

A 20-year-old girl, resident of Burdette Avenue, reported that shortly after 8 she was accosted by a man on Quadra Street south of Fort Street who told her he was hurt and asked her to take him to hospital. She said she accompanied him for several blocks and then became suspicious and ran from him.

At about the same time a girl resident of Ladysmith Street, was reported to have been accosted by a man on Belleville Street near the C.P.R. wharf. The man was said to have had a handkerchief over his face. He too was believed to have become frightened and ran away.

Variety Of Books In Libraries Here Amazes Frenchman

Jacques Guinard, University of Bordeaux librarian, is amazed at the number and variety of books to be found in Canadian libraries and is impressed with the extent of appropriations and funds for libraries here and in the U.S.

M. Guinard spent hours in Victoria Wednesday afternoon and evening, when he visited city and provincial libraries, accompanied by Charles K. Morison, provincial librarian. M. Guinard is on a special mission for the French Board of Education.

Provision of duplicate copies, which is not done in French libraries accounts for a larger reading population here than in his own country, M. Guinard believed. He also pointed out that reference libraries and lending libraries were usually two separate institutions in France, and that lending libraries were always private enterprises.

Libraries, too, were casualties in France, although in some sections Germans did little other than order anti-German books disposed of. However, fighting or intentional demolition destroyed libraries in many areas, he said.

Rebuilding of collections is now under way and excellent aid in this endeavor is being given by the American Book Centre in the Library of Congress, according to M. Guinard.

Shooting Case To Be Heard By Appeal Court

Appeal of William Clark, Vancouver game warden, sentenced to one year imprisonment for having a revolver in his possession for a purpose dangerous to the public peace, is scheduled to be heard tomorrow before the Court of Appeal.

Clark is alleged to have fired a revolver shot at a taxi which picked up Mrs. A. J. S. Gough, a friend of the accused. The bullet struck the vehicle but did no harm to the occupants.

Counsel for the appellant claims the sentence of the lower court was too severe as the accused had never been charged with a crime during his lifetime.

Today the court heard the appeal of Joseph Dixon Brown vs. Fred Storochuk which involves the recovery of lands in New Westminster.

Chinese Fined $300 On Liquor Charge

Chow Kong was fined $300 or three months in jail at hard labor when convicted in city police court today on a charge of selling a bottle of liquor to a customer at the Victoria Cafe, 557 Fisgard Street, on the night of Sept. 14.

The customer was Constable Thomas H. Smith of the city police, who testified he gave a waiter a $10 bill and the waiter turned the money over to Chow. The waiter later returned to the policeman who was sitting in a booth and gave him a bottle of gin which he brought from under his apron. The policeman said he had seen Chow give the waiter something which the waiter had hidden under his apron.

The waiter pleaded guilty in court on Wednesday of unlawfully selling liquor and was fined the same amount.

Immunization Week To Be Observed Here

The importance of immunization against childhood diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and smallpox, will be brought to the attention of Victoria parents during immunization week, which is being observed across Canada during the week of Sept. 30. Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, said today.

Dr. R. A. Smillie, school medical health officer, will give a radio talk, and notices will be sent to parents through city and Esquimalt schools asking that authorization be granted for the immunization of schoolchildren against these diseases.

Most serious of all childhood ailments is whooping cough, which causes more deaths each year than all others combined, Dr. Anderson said.

Pistol Stolen

Theft of a German Mauser pistol from the cash register of a secondhand store at 541 Johnson Street Wednesday night was reported to city police today.

3 MORE DELIRIOUS DAYS TODAY, FRI., SAT.

Royal
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

Clark Gable Bos'n In Film 'Adventure'

Adventure seekers need go no farther than the Atlas Theatre to find what they're looking for, for the attraction there for the next three days is "Adventure," co-starring Clark Gable and Greer Garson in a teaming that is the talk of Hollywood. Gable plays a fighting, love-making bos'n of the Merchant Marines. Greer is cast as a mild-looking but spirited librarian who puts him out of her library and into his place. Thomas Mitchell is Gable's hard-drinking, two-fisted pal. Lina Romay is a waterfront miss who tries to make him forget.

York Picture Needed Squad Of Athletes

Requirements for the filming of Columbia Pictures' technicolor production, "The Bandit of Sherwood Forest," currently starring Cornel Wilde at the York Theatre, included the discovering of three actors who could swing down from a 30-foot level in a tree; seven who could do the same from a 15-foot level; two who could jump 25 feet up from tramp lines, and two more who could jump six feet from a springboard. A casting director found them all in a nearby gymnasium.

Goldwyn Returns To Musical Field

Returning to the musical film field after five years of producing other types of screen fare, Samuel Goldwyn is said to have the gayest and most entertaining picture of his career in "Up In Arms," in technicolor, now at the Oak Bay Theatre, starring Danny Kaye and bringing a new ensemble of Goldwyn Girls before the public.

Dinah Shore, Dana Andrews and Constance Dowling have top roles in the melodic tale of two buddies who are inducted into the army, and who, with their nurse girl friends, find themselves aboard a big transport headed for the south Pacific.

Folks who like to drag their friends into the parlor, turn out the lights and swap tales of the weird and supernatural will enjoy the film at the Dominion Theatre, "Dead of Night." For this is a package of those curious and uncanny yarns designed to raise secret goose-pimples and cause the mind to make a fast check on itself. And the stories related are tightly and graphically told.

Diana Lynn, Paramount star, began taking swimming lessons recently to overcome a fear of water which she developed in early childhood. The young actress who co-stars with Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Cummings in Paramount's "The Bride Wore Boots" at the Royal Theatre, waded out too far in the ocean when she was five and almost drowned. From that time on she would not go near the water.

When Paramount couldn't locate a half dozen shirts of the 'Twenties' vintage for William Demarest to wear in "Our Hearts Were Growing Up," the comedian sold the studio six of his own that he used to wear in vaudeville.

In "Our Hearts Were Growing Up," now at the Capitol Theatre, Demarest is cast as a dumb, but willing stooge to Brian Donlevy, a bootlegger.

Purely personal... finishing "Trail Town," Anne Jeffries will sing "La Tosca" at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Eleanor Powell may do a Chicago night club engagement, but no pictures, she says... Maureen O'Hara and Will Price plan to leave for Elre Oct. 23, taking their young child... Nan Sun-derland (Mrs. Walter Huston), comes out of retirement for a role in "Unconquered"... Bob Hutton's divorce becomes final this week.

Scarce Items Needed For Kathleen's Reconversion

V.M.D. shipyard workers board the Princess Kathleen to begin the $1,500,000 job of reconverting her to peacetime trim for the Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle service.

Among the many pieces of equipment which will go into the reconversion of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service's Princess Kathleen are scarce articles of wiring and plumbing. It is estimated 18 miles of electric wiring will be installed throughout the ship. Into the cabins will go 250 wash basins and necessary plumbing. Officials, looking to news of shortages of these items throughout Canada, admit they are going to have difficulty getting this gear for the Victoria ship. One of the more interesting features revealed in reconversion plans is a coffee-room which will provide a seating capacity for 100 persons and has been so planned that, if conditions in later years warrant, it can be converted into a dance room for passengers. Cabins will be of the most modern design, but will conform greatly with the type aboard the Kathleen before she was taken over as a troopship by the British Admiralty. The cabins will also conform with those aboard other ships of the B.C.C.S.S. fleet in so far as decoration and paint are concerned. Major portion of work is to be done aboard the ship is interior work, consisting to a large extent of replacing the cabins stripped out during the war to provide greater troop accommodation. Relatively little steel work is to be done. Present schedule date of delivery of the ship by V.M.D. to B.C.C.S.S. falls within the first two weeks of May, 1947.

Hollywood Column

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Here is the news in the movie capital today:
Real reason for the "Forever Amber" fiasco was not Peggy Cummings' performance (which was commended by the rest of the cast), but fear of censors. The first eight weeks' shooting contained no sex, no humor, no adventure, so it was called off. The new script will make a less timid attempt at sex.
Clark Gable won't be working until December, if then. He'll probably enact "Return of Stuck with Your Old Car?

If you're "stuck with your old car" you at least have the satisfaction of knowing that you are not the only one! New models just aren't rolling in at the rate everyone expected. Production is, away behind, due to work stoppages and shortages of vital materials. It may be 6 to 12 months before most of you can get delivery. In the meantime, you may be casting unkind glances at your present car and saying to yourself, "I'm stuck with it!" But with the right attention, your car can continue to serve you well. Since it probably has to last out the year, there's no use delaying the work your car needs to put it in first-class running condition and appearance. If you place it in the hands of an experienced, dependable automotive organization—such as Gladwell Motors—you're certain to be pleasantly surprised at the transformation. Gladwell Motors is completely equipped to do the job economically and expertly, and when you see how your car looks and performs, well, you'll be delighted and perfectly willing to wait a little longer for a new model.

Ulysses," a modern doctor story, not "The Hucksters."
Pals Henry Fonda and James Stewart are serious about doing a play together. They're accepting no commitments after Hank's "A Time to Kill" and Jimmie's "The Magic City."
Production note: MGM's new cartoon character, Phil Flea, will star in "A Flea Grows in Brooklyn."
Orson Welles' Columbia picture will be called "Lady from Shanghai." Rita Hayworth may be in it, if the studio likes the part.
Dinah Shore is lining up a picture. Her new radio show with Peter Lind Hayes makes lively listening... Dean Jagger is buying a farm in Indiana... Now we are told that Harry James is going to give trumpet lessons via television when he goes to New York. Now I've heard everything.

B.C. Pulp Shows 2-Point Gain

TORONTO (CP) — In dull trading today, trading bulked in two or three of the goods.

Food issues varied mildly with losses equaling gains. Steel issues also were mixed. Bell Telephone held a three point rise. Profit-taking in the senior goods ended with a few sizeable losses, including Little Long Lac 3, MacLead 5, San Antonio 10 and Wright Hargreaves 5. In the base metals group Golden Manitou gained 10 to sell at $2.45 and Pend Oreille gained 18.

Junior goods showed action in two or three issues, of which Elder dropped a cent, McMarmac gained 7, Pen-Rey dropped 2, Vicour gained 2.

Use Special Steel

On Elizabeth To

Stretch With Waves

The Queen Elizabeth, world's largest passenger liner due to make her maiden voyage in commercial passenger service Oct. 16, stretches to accommodate herself to rough seas, according to Cumard White Star officials in Montreal.

During the exhaustive investigations made in the design stage, when thousands of decisions had to be made on the thickness and strength of her hull plating, engineers hit on the possibility of using special elastic steel in areas where particularly heavy strain was likely to be encountered.

They then incorporated into the hull many plates of this steel which gives when subjected to the pounding of heavy waves.

The main strength of the Queen

Elizabeth has been placed in the structure from the keel to the promenade deck. The superstructure has been built in lighter materials. However, since the tremendous length of the 3,673-ton ship involves heavy stresses even to the superstructure, the latter was built in sections detached from each other by a few inches. Known as expansion joints, these spaces expand and contract with sea-going strains, at the same time presenting an unbroken line to the observer.
